

2 Killed, 6 Hurt In Explosion At Nestle Plant

Vote Here Tonight On Settlement Of Strike

Other Laborer Groups,
Construction Companies
Agree On Pay Raises

A vote on proposed contract provisions between International Hod Carriers and Building Laborers Union Local 992 of Granite City and the Southern Illinois Builders Association is expected at the local's regular meeting tonight, a spokesman told the Press-Record today.

Tentative agreement in the 10-day-old strike was reached between negotiators representing the SIBA and other locals meeting with Federal Mediator George W. Squires last night. Jack Green, local 997 business agent, was helping direct rescue operations following the Nestle plant explosion here yesterday and was unable to attend the session.

While the new contract still must be approved by members of each local involved, a number of workmen reportedly were back on the job this morning.

15, 10-Cent Rates
The new contract, covering a two-year period beginning Aug. 1, would grant workers a 15-cent hourly pay raise this year and a 10-cent hike in 1962. Minimum pay under the old contract was $3.45 an hour.

Charles Parker, local 997 secretary, said he does not know the feeling of the local membership on the tentative agreement but said the matter will "without doubt" come up at tonight's meeting.

SIFA officials said they expect ratification of the new contract by membership of all the locals.

Construction Halted
The strike had paralyzed more than $100,000,000 worth of highway and construction projects in a 12-county area of southern Illinois since workmen left their jobs last week.

Other locals involved are at East St. Louis, Belleville, Mascoutah, O'Fallon and Wood River.

Highway workers are represented by the Southern Illinois District Council.

Undergo Surgery
The following are recovering at St. Elizabeth Hospital after surgery which they underwent this week: Mildred Hawkins, 2008 Cleveland, 2008 Cleveland, Yankin, 1330 Grand avenue, Madison; Jimmy Poe, National City, Rose Varsity, 2008 Fourth street, Madison; Vernatt Burn, 1622 Spruce street; John Harbit, 2200 St. Clair avenue; Donald Mancum, 4062 Vesel avenue; Nancy Harbit, 4753 Warnock avenue; and Johnnie Fuller, 2808 Benton street.

REMOVING VICTIMS' BODIES early this morning from the Nestle Co. coffee plant explosion scene, police and industrial employees are shown carrying one of the stretchers to an ambulance. Finding and freeing the bodies of two trapped and killed by the explosion required 14½ hours.

Seek Pollution Grant; Vote Sewer Tax, Reject Street Tax

Handling a variety of major financing matters Monday night, Granite City aldermen decided to apply for a federal grant of up to $250,000, voted down a $140,000 special street tax levy, approved

2 Men Sought In McGovern Shooting

County authorities today are still seeking for two young men who critically wounded Thomas E. McGovern, 49, of the end of the line establishment, a former tavern on Bend road, early Tuesday with three blasts from a small calibre pistol. The gun has not been found.

McGovern, whose local address is 2424 Grand avenue, was shot in the right side of the head, through the left chest, in the chest close to the heart and in the spleen, apparently during an argument. He is at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, where personnel today described his condition as serious.

Morgan Heads Plan Group; 4 On Appeal Board

Appointment of David W. Morgan as chairman of the newly-expanded City Planning Commission of Granite City was made by Mayor Davis and confirmed by the city council Monday night.

Board Appointments
In addition to naming Morgan, Mayor Davis this week appointed four new members of the Zoning Appeals Board. They are Richard Kerech, David John, A. E. "Tony" Michel and Glen Hollis.

Levee Board Ok's Construction of Storm Drains

Advertisement for bids for construction of over three miles of storm drains was authorized by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees in a regular meeting yesterday afternoon.

The first project approved is construction of 10,100 feet of 24, 21, and 18-inch line from a point north of Forest blvd. between 45th and 46th streets in East St. Louis to a point east of the Alton and Southern railroad tracks at the Caseyville drainage outlet.

The other project calls for construction of 9300 feet of 18, 15, 12, and 10-inch line along 48th street in East St. Louis, also beginning at a point near Forest blvd. and 45th street.

Blast Rocks Wide Area; 14½-Hour Vigil Ends With Finding Of Victims Today

Eyewitness Accounts Tell Grim Story Of Sudden Death, Injury

Dr. John C. Studer, Nestle Co. vice-president in charge of manufacturing, said plans are under way to rebuild the plant. "We are making every effort to determine the cause of the blast," he said.

"It will be several days before the extent of the damage can be evaluated. The entire processing department was destroyed, but intact were the warehouse, filling department, drier, substation, boiler room and engine room.

Studer said the plant will resume operations "at the earliest possible time." He estimated that it would take at least eight months to rebuild and equip the structure.

The Nestle Company, he added, will make "every possible use of all the plant's employees." He pointed out that maintenance, warehouse and engineering employees will continue working "for some period of time."

"The building just seemed to fall in on us. I crawled out and jumped about 15 feet to the ground. I was pretty lucky to get out at all."

That's how Wesley Grote, 52, of 2701 Denver street, summed up his narrow escape from yesterday's explosion at the Nestle Co. 21st Adams street. He was released from St. Elizabeth Hospital after examination.

"It was an awful blast. I had my hood on and didn't see too much," said Grote, a welder and maintenance worker. He had been working on the second floor when the section collapsed from what he thought was an explosion in one of the plant's percolators.

"I sounded like four cases of dynamite all at once," commented Richard Grider, 2119 Delmar avenue. "I've heard sonic booms and there was no comparison."

"I was in bed about a block away and it nearly threw me out," exclaimed Everett Carpenter, 2032 Cleveland blvd.

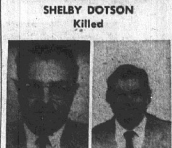

"All we could see at first was steam gushing up. It just engulfed everything for a few seconds and then it was clear again," said Ben Hutchins, operator at a tavern across the street from the plant.

"I saw one fellow crawl out of a break half way up, about where the second floor would be and jump down," he added.

A plate glass window in the tavern's front and a smaller window upstairs were shattered by the blast, but no one was injured from the glass. Reports were that the tavern had been condemned because of a serious crack near the roof.

A sudden explosion at the Nestle Co. coffee plant at 1 p.m. yesterday started a dramatic 14½-hour period that brought death to two employees, injury to six others and countless instances of heroism on the part of volunteer rescue workers. One of the injured men was saved after being buried in the rubble of the shattered coffee extracting department.

With the search for blast victims ending in intense pressure, the community successfully met a major test of its ability to rapidly marshal manpower and machines for disaster service. Handicapped by rain that began at 9:50 p.m. Wednesday a search of the brick, concrete and metal debris came to a forlorn end at 3:25 a.m. today with finding of the second of two bodies.

Only a slim hope for rescue of the two missing men had been maintained, since a trenchery section had collapsed and there had been no cries for help after the removal of Jack Dawson, manufacturing department supervisor.

At 12:30 a.m. today, the body of Shelby Dotson, young operator employee, was discovered and a few minutes later a waiting ambulance crew was notified to prepare two stretchers.

Found Near Stairway
The two men were near an inside wall on the western end of the collapsed section, near a stairway that might have led to safety. Their mutilated bodies indicated that they had died immediately.

First remains were extricated at 2:35 a.m., and the second 50 minutes later, ending the two families' vigil and the long effort by Nestle and other industrial workers, Quad-City police and firemen, auxiliary forces, civil defense workers and others.

Sending a loud boom echoing for many blocks, breaking building and auto windows and jarring bricks loose from a nearby structure, the blast of undetermined cause attracted crowds of sightseers that steadily increased in number during the late afternoon and evening.

Tenety lights were set up to create a bright scene for the workers last night, after it became apparent that those unaccounted for on a company checklist would not be located immediately.

Hazardous Search
Part of the overhanging steel and concrete was pulled away, but it was necessary to use a crane to hold back a wall of the building while another crane was removing large obstacles in the searchers' path.

Fear was expressed that there might be a further collapse as the digging proceeded, just as during the day there was worry that a corner of the plant building might fail, endangering workers and spectators. The night's search combined with ever treatment.

State Approves $50,000 State St. Paving Projects

Improvement of State street from 20th street to 23rd street at an approximate cost of $50,000 in motor fuel tax funds has been approved by the Illinois division of highways. The city council was notified Monday night.

The approval is contingent on use of an eight-inch-thick concrete base course; a sub-base of granular material; and bituminous concrete resurfacing consisting of an inch-and-a-half binder course, and a one-inch surface course.

The council authorized a four-way stop at 27th and Washington avenue, and voted 6-4 to remove the stop sign on Niedringhaus avenue at 22nd street and Washington avenue on an experimental basis.

The Niedringhaus sign recommendation of the traffic committee was opposed by Aldermen Whitmer, Shadelford, Vesel and Bartosik.

Urges Support Of Committee Before the vote, Traffic Chairman Charles Meyer commented that most suggestions of his committee have been turned down, and unless there is a change, "I'm not going to bring in any more recommendations."

He noted that traffic approaching on Niedringhaus has just passed through a traffic light and should be expedited.

Alderman Edmund Bartosik disagreed, saying there is heavy traffic turning left from Washington onto 22nd street to reach plant parking lots.

Propose Safety Belts
At Alderman Arthur Wieser's suggestion, the public safety committee was asked to consider obtaining safety belts for seats of fire trucks and other city emergency vehicles.

He noted that 1962 autos will be equipped with brackets to hold safety belts.

The traffic committee will study closing 9th street at State street for the Labor Day celebration Sept. 1-4. The request from the Hoosier young men's club-Black chapter was reported by Mrs. Gabrielle Bettino.

Her suggestion for two-hour parking controls in front of an apartment building at 2427 Madison avenue was referred to City Attorney William Beatty.

She noted that similar procedures for entire blocks have been followed in other areas where residents had difficulty finding parking space.

Mayor Davis acknowledged that he has been visiting two-hour parking limit tickets for auto owners residing at the location of the offense. Whitmer said it would be "ridiculous" to set up a two-hour zone for a single building.

The alderman also proposed banning of parking on Delmar at 27th street for a distance of 50 feet to aid motorists' vision while turning. No decision was reached as the meeting's adjournment took place.

Committee Clarified,
Office To Be Painted
Confusion over committee jurisdiction at city buildings was cleared up with a brief discussion during Monday night's city council meeting in Granite City. The public works committee, headed by Sam Whitmer, will be in charge of the buildings themselves, with the personnel committee, headed by Arthur Wieser, handling matters relating to employees within the buildings.

Earlier in the session, the council had approved a personnel committee recommendation to have the building inspector's office expanded. In the future, such matters will go through the public works committee.

Wieser said it is awkward for the inspector to tell residents to meet high standards on their building projects when his own office in the city hall is unattractive. He added that minor plaster work will be necessary, in addition to the new paint.

Mayor Davis agreed with the painting need, pointing out that the council's planning committee and the City Planning Commission will use the same office until other quarters for them are located.

Proposed conversion of heating facilities to a gas furnace was referred to the public works committee for a recommendation.

Committees have been extensively revised this summer, and the mayor commented that time will be required to clarify committee jurisdictions, particularly in overlapping areas.

Summer Teachers' Salaries Are Adjusted

Summer school teachers' salaries were adjusted to the same rate as last year by unanimous vote at Tuesday night's Granite City school board meeting. It was pointed out that the rate of pay for summer teachers is based on the tuition of pupils enrolled, and that the number enrolled this summer will permit a pay increase of $10 a week, identical to last year's rate.

Total income from tuition will be $8864, it was reported, with a total cost of $8863 this year. It was necessary to strengthen the bearing walls so that modifications would be safe at the new entrance to the Mitchell school cafeteria, it was reported. This was found when the entrance was enlarged, the board was told. Cost of the additional brickwork will be $86. A gas-fired water heater at Washington school will be supplemented with a new pressure vessel, to be purchased for $315 from S. M. Barnes Co., Rockford.

School Engineer Marvin Dean said the present burner control can be used with the new vessel, at a cost considerably less than buying all new equipment.

Boys Create Disturbance

Granite City police reprimanded several boys and confiscated pocket knives at 3300 Kirkpatrick homes Tuesday evening. Police were called when a disturbance was reported there.

Red Cross Blood Bank Draws 206 Pints

Contributions to the Red Cross blood bank totaled 206 pints during the blood drive Friday at the Granite City Engineer Depot, it was announced at the monthly Red Cross directors' meeting Tuesday afternoon. The local Red Cross chapter also distributed $988 in financial assistance during July, Floyd Mitchell, board chairman, said. The blood bank drew 222 donors at the Engineer Depot, with 213 being depot personnel or employees.

During July the local chapter made 121 contacts and placed 50 telegrams and long distance telephone calls. Forty-five of the contacts were for Engineer Depot personnel. Junior Red Cross participants in Quad-City elementary schools contributed 350 gift boxes, which will be sent to the national office for distribution throughout the world. Also sent was a filled gift chest made by students at Granite City high school.

Scholarship Foundation Tops Goal, 13 Given $400 Awards

Even after doubling its goal this year, the Granite City Scholarship Foundation has gone over the mark, with contributions totaling $5427, it was announced today. This year's goal was $5000, as compared to $2500 in previous years.

Harold Thomas, Foundation president, said the funds have provided 13 scholarships of $400 each to graduates of Granite City high school.

Four were awarded to students who received them last year and have done outstanding college work, and nine to students who just finished high school this year.

The scholarships are granted on the basis of financial need.

Three motorists were ticketed for parking in a no-parking zone on 21st street between Iowa and Madison avenue Tuesday afternoon by Granite City police. Thomas Powell, 45, of St. Louis, and Marvin Baines, 53, of 2117 Waterman avenue, each posted $7 cash bond pending a hearing, and Jack Ficker, 30, of 714 Twenty-sixth place, posted his driver's license as bond.

South Venice Bill Limiting Primary Nominations Is Vetoed

(Special from Springfield)

Gov. Otto Kerner has vetoed a bill passed by the recent General Assembly which would have virtually banned primary nomination of candidates receiving a negligible number of write-in votes. The governor said to allow the measure to become law "would be too high a price for administrative convenience."

The sponsor was State Rep. Ralph T. Smith (R-Alton). The measure had its origin in the April 1960 primary to nominate candidates for Congress in the 24th District (St. Clair and Madison counties). Lacking a formal candidate, eight Republicans wrote in the name of Mrs. Phyllis Schlafly, wife of an Alton attorney, and she became a reluctant Republican nominee after the state electoral board certified her as nominated.

In the following November election, Mrs. Schlafly lost to the Democratic incumbent, Melvin Price, East St. Louis, by 58,840. Price getting a total of 144,500 votes to Mrs. Schlafly's 55,620. Price was reelected to a ninth consecutive term. Mrs. Schlafly was an alternate delegate to the Republican national convention at Chicago last year.

Rep. Smith, in introducing his bill, said if it becomes law it would provide that a write-in candidate must be certified as a nominee unless he or she received as many votes as required on nominating petitions.

Mrs. Alice Shambo, 1302 Orville street, was among those attending the American Food Service Association convention in Denver, Colo.

Cafeteria Contract Studied At 7½-Hour School Meeting

Although the semi-monthly school board went into overtime, lasting from 7:30 p.m. Tuesday until 3 a.m. Wednesday, no specific action was taken on the major topic — acceptance of a contract submitted by cafeteria workers and under study by the board.

Superintendent Harold M. Kaiser told the board at the start of discussion that the staff had negotiated for about 33 hours on the contract and that it seeks to keep the price of student lunches at 30 cents for elementary and 35 cents for junior and senior high schools during the 1961-62 school year.

"This is a good contract in that it provides for settling any grievance problem through specific procedures, and I recommend that it be approved," Kaiser told the board.

Questions on wording of the proposed contract, which was distributed to members for study, indicated a wish for additional negotiation and revision before a contract is approved.

Seniority List

A specific plan for preparation of a seniority list is needed to avoid future grievances, members agreed. It was suggested that the board compile a list of all cafeteria employees with dates of hiring, and submit it to Local 98.

Employees would be asked to sign the list if the date was approved as submitted at Tuesday night's meeting of the Granite City school board. It included an educational fund of $20,056 and a building fund of $19,410.

Largest items listed under building were $18,985 for improvements at Wilson and Maryville schools, with Nelson Construction Co. the contractor, and $285 for the services of Gabriel-Dulgeroff Architects.

The educational fund contained $2519 for textbooks for Central school, $1038 for contractual services from Graham-Pierce Office Supply Co. for the high school; $909 for instructional supplies from Wood River Printing & Publishing Co. for Central school; textbooks for Marshall school, $887 from Ginn and Co.; vocational and industrial arts equipment for Central school, $772 from Mill Supply & Machinery Co.; textbooks for Prather junior high, $736 from Scott Foreman & Co.; and textbooks for the high school, $719 from Scott Foreman & Co.

GC School District Recognized By State

Recognition of the Granite City school district for the 1961 school year has been extended by George T. Wilkins, superintendent of public instruction, Springfield.

Members of the state's supervisory staff visited the district during the past year to evaluate the total educational program and suggestions about local school problems.

"The certificates of recognition for your county have been sent to your county superintendent for his signature. I am sure you will receive yours within a few days," Wilkins wrote in a letter to Supt. Harold M. Kaiser, who was reported at Tuesday night's school board meeting.

"Good educational opportunities can be provided only through intelligent leadership, cooperation between community, board, administrator and teachers plus a continuous program of self-evaluation," Wilkins stated.

"I hope the suggestions which might have been made at the time of our visitation, or later in our letter of visitation, will be helpful to you in your efforts to improve your educational program," he added.

Thrifty people sometimes find that the best way to save money is to spend it well.

Number Of SIU Classrooms Here Affected By Power Plant Study

Gov. Kerner's veto of a $900,000 appropriation for power plant additions at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, brings to mind the question of how heat and power will be provided for the new university east of the Quad-Cities. The school is fulfilling its responsibility to the public in studying various possible methods for creation of a multi-million dollar major power plant by the university could seriously deplete the funds available for classroom construction.

As noted by the governor, the power plant addition at Carbondale can still be built through use of part of the November 1960 state bond issue funds. The same is true locally, but estimates show that at no time in the foreseeable future will the Southwestern Illinois Campus have enough classroom facilities for the number of students seeking admission.

If it would be more economical to purchase the necessary power from existing private plants, more of the $25,000,000 bond fund could be freed for educational buildings. A thorough, objective study should give the answer.

Permits Could Defeat Parking Meters' Purpose

Granite City council members were wise in allowing additional time to discuss proposed issuance of parking meter permits at $10 a month. The plan could work against the meters' basic function of preventing long-term parking so that parking spaces will be readily available to shoppers and those transacting business downtown.

Points in favor of the permits are that total revenue might increase, and that parking would be simplified for many persons, who could ignore meter time violations as long as their auto had the necessary windshield sticker.

An exchange of views between city officials, business firms and shoppers can throw further light on the subject, but it would seem that the answer for those needing to park all or most of the day is additional lots in or adjacent to the business district. The principal value of meters is that they keep street parking available; widespread purchase of permits could severely limit this availability.

The courts of the land are the bulwark of the liberties of the people when they decide in your favor.

Property Recovery Law Can Help Cut Pension Costs

Solutions must be found for the state's financial problems, and a long step in this direction may be provided by a new law extending provisions of the existing property lien law on old-age assistance recipients' real estate.

The theory is that pensioners need their homes while living, but no longer than that. With sale of property reimbursing the state for its aid, additional funds are provided to assist others who are beyond retirement age and in need.

Loopholes in the Illinois law, which enabled only about $1,000,000 a year to be recovered, are plugged by the bill just signed by Gov. Otto Kerner. Estimates of $20,000,000 yearly savings are regarded as too optimistic by the Illinois Public Aid Commission, but experience in other states shows that much more could be obtained than at present.

The increasing proportion of youngsters and older persons promises to put a tighter and tighter squeeze on the part of the population both old enough and young enough to work, earn and pay taxes. The new law should help ease this pressure.

The Hay Fever Season

Those who have their annual trouble with sniffles and sneezes in the late summer and early fall can get ready for a bumper hay fever season. The annual peak of the ragweed season is approaching.

The height of the season comes at slightly varying times in different parts of the country. In the more northern sections, the peak of the pollen season comes between Aug. 15 and Sept. 15. In more southern areas, the peak is experienced slightly later in the year.

As a general rule, most people can tolerate a pollen count of less than 25 grains of pollen in each cubic yard of air. However, some are bothered by a count of 10 or 15, while a few cannot tolerate a count of five or less.

Hay fever is not a disturbance to be taken lightly, and it is estimated that several people out of each hundred in the United States suffer from its effects each year. That would mean that millions of Americans are affected by it.

Perhaps the best remedy for most people today consists of injections of an extract from the ragweed plants. Allergy tests, and such injections, can help a large percentage of sufferers. This method is coming into increasing use, and should be considered by all who suffer from hay fever.

3 TV Sets Recovered After Hospital Theft

A sudden temptation to steal has resulted in one arrest with another probable in Granite City after two men stole three portable television sets from St. Elizabeth Hospital Monday.

Police reported David Garrison, 21, of 1426 Sixth street, and have recovered the sets from the apartment of his partner, who is still being sought.

Detective Chief James Lowder said Garrison suffered a cut to one of his hands Monday and was taken to the hospital for emergency treatment. Another man and his girl friend, was not charged.

While strolling in the hall waiting for Garrison to be released, his friend apparently saw the television sets in a room nearby and decided to steal them, Lowder said. The sets are portable models, Dendies and are rented to patients.

Lowder said the friend took two sets to his car while Garrison was in the emergency room and, after he had been treated, they returned through the 21st street entrance for more sets.

But a nurse spotted Garrison in the hallway while he was still being handled. "Shouldn't you have given me a status sheet, too?" he was asked. "I don't know what you're talking about," he replied.

But while she was escorting Garrison to the door, Lowder said the other youth managed to make away with the third set. Garrison is free on $500 poverty bond after entering a plea of guilty to a petty larceny charge, which is pending in police court.

In the Quad-Cities, Justice Harry E. Hartman conducts court in the law offices he shares with Assistant State Attorney John Gitchoff at 1326 Niedringhaus avenue.

West Madison Man Held For Entering Venice Home

Charles J. Jones, 28, of 702 Washington street, West Madison, was arrested by Venice police at 1:30 a.m. Wednesday at the corner of Third and Jackson streets on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The arrest was made after Mrs. Delores Jackson, 1010 Douglas avenue, stopped a patrol car and told officers Jones had just entered her apartment and taken something from the refrigerator.

She said she heard someone enter and thought it was her husband, but when she turned on the light, she recognized Jones, who had the refrigerator door open and had just put something under his shirt. She said he fled when she turned on the lights.

Jones was held in the city jail, unable to post bond. A hearing will be held at a later date.

Eyewitness Accounts

whole corner of the building was gone.

Mrs. Sue Doon, 2434 Benton avenue, said she was at the refrigerator preparing her husband's lunch when the explosion occurred.

"The door swung and hit me and the lights went off and I like to fainted," she said. "It nearly scared me to death."

"It made a whooshing sound like a lot of steam escaping," said Bill Winger, 2109 Benton street. "I never heard an explosion that sounded like that in my life."

"I was laying down dozing and it just shook me," exclaimed Mrs. Edith Eltherton, 2103 Benton avenue.

Ada Lancaster, 1105 Twenty-first street, who was working in a tavern across the street from the Nestle building, when the explosion occurred, said the blast shook the whole building.

A lady in the tavern who had been sitting near where the window shattered was still there about an hour later while firemen, policemen and emergency workers battled to reach the still-trapped workers.

"It just blew up and that was it," she said, clanking a bottle on the polished bar. "No, none of the glass hit me and I wasn't scared. Yes, it sounded like an earthquake, all right."

Screams of several men were heard by other Nestle employees immediately after the boom of the explosion, and Foreman Jack Dawson could be heard calling for help during early stages of the removal of victims from the debris. After he was taken out and placed in an ambulance, heavy equipment was used to remove the mountain of bricks, concrete, steel metal containers and roofing. Some of the workers reported hearing a faint call for help, but none could be during the afternoon and evening, hope diminished.

Voluntary response by industrial plants, the Granite City Engineer Depot, contractors and others enabled a mammoth rescue operation to be assembled within minutes.

With cranes being placed in use 100 minutes after the blast, heavier sections of the wreckage were pulled free and it became possible to utilize a vast array of mechanical equipment. Although encouraged by the unrelenting efforts, spectators and relatives of the injured at times expressed with the necessary slowness of the task.

One commented that "if everybody here would pick up just one brick, we would have it all cleared away."

Workers were supplied with all types of equipment, cranes, trucks, bulldozers, lights, hand tools and other supplies were donated, along with equipment crews, by numerous Quad-City business firms.

Some of those giving help included Granite City Steel Co., Laclede Steel Co., Wilbur Wagner Excavating & Trucking Co., General Contracting Co., A. H. Seebold Truck Service & Excavating Co., Lybarger Material Co., Inc., Andy & Johnny's Heavy Auto Repairing and the Granite City Engineer Depot.

Scores of steel welders were at the scene with their equipment to cut debris and other obstacles in the way of the rescue workers.

Dozens of new leather gloves were distributed among the workers for pulling away the rubble. Police at the scene, were not sure who donated them.

Representatives from the Salvation Army and the Red Cross were on hand to provide help for the workers. The biggest thing in demand was cold water as the temperature was in the nineties.

Several cars in the plant parking lot were moving the wreckage and back windows of the vehicles exploded. Window damage was reported throughout the surrounding area.

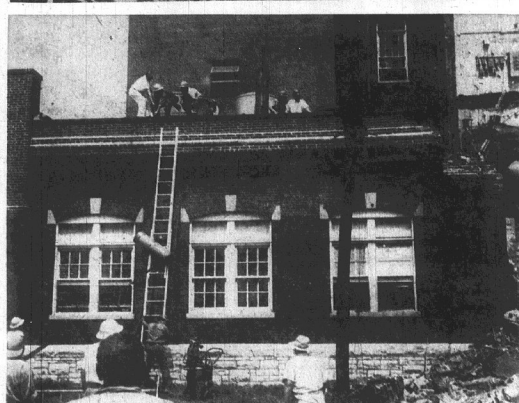

Plant officials had no specific explanation for the cause of the blast, which observers theorized might have occurred in a giant percolator used to boil coffee prior to its conversion into instant coffee.

Escaping steam billowed around the building, temporarily shielding it from the view of nearby homes for a few seconds after the explosion rocked the neighborhood.

Meanwhile hope continued that the missing men were being somehow still alive among machinery on the first floor.

Every few minutes a huge chunk of bricks or a twisted girder or section of wall was lifted from the wreckage by a crane and lowered into the bed of a truck. The trucks carried the debris to the end of a nearby field.

Welders armed with cutting torches were called upon often to separate twisted steel that bound eraman into temporary custody after a verbal exchange.

Robert Ehlert, 35, told relatives he crawled out on his hands and knees, seconds before most of the damaged section collapsed. He and his family moved here two months ago from Marysville, Ohio. He expects to be released from the hospital by Sunday.

Calls for welding torches, crescent wrenches, cranks and other tools were issued from time to time by those working to rescue Dawson. Plant employees rounded up all available tools and delivered them to the immediate area, and other equipment was brought in during the afternoon.

A sign of the confusion within the first hours was that authorities about 2:15 p.m. listed Victor Frisze, one of six brought in for treatment. Later, plant officials announced that Frisze was one of the two men still missing.

One rescue worker was heard saying for a while he was acting up. No milk was to be had, and the workers continued on doing his part in the operations.

Brown liquid coffee spilled from jagged rents in the sides of two huge metal tanks as they were lifted out of the rubble by cranes and lowered onto beds of trucks waiting to haul them away.

"I thought the whole building was going," those were the words of Vasil Graville, sales manager of the Granite City supply Corp., which is located some 400 yards from the scene of the explosion.

Graville, who said he happened to be looking out his office window in the direction of the Nestle building, told a Press-Record reporter, "It was just one big boom followed by a huge cloud of white smoke that blocked all view of the building."

"The plaster on the walls in my office began to fall," Graville continued. It was he who summoned the fire department and ambulances.

When asked what time he called for help, Graville replied "It was about one o'clock because the electricity in the office was off momentarily after the boom and my clock stopped."

In the late afternoon, welders disposed of the plant's cyclone parking lot fence to make way for trucks to back in and carry off rubble.

Hopes of finding anyone alive beneath the tons of debris began to dim as the sunlight faded and rescue operations were forced to slow their pace because of decreasing visibility.

An odor of cooked coffee, dust and exhaust fumes hung about the area as soldiers from the Granite City Engineer Depot began setting up portable spotlights in case searchers had not found the missing men by nightfall.

Emergency equipment rumbling through the streets to help remove the debris looked like a military convoy. Crowds lined the streets, watching as three giant cranes pulled at the collapsed section in an effort to find missing employees.

"If there's anyone under all that, they might just as well leave them there," was a comment frequently overheard among the crowd.

Police had all parked cars moved from the north side of 21st street in the late afternoon to make way for a 70-ton crane that was slowly moving across the city to the scene of the accident.

One employee, Cedric Pasley, was included on initial injury list, but it was learned later that he had gone to St. Elizabeth Hospital only to assist with the injured.

Jack Green, laborers' union official, police and fire chiefs and several contractors were active in directing the search of wreckage for victims of the explosion and building collapse.

Illinois Power Co. linemen cut electric wires along 21st street to enable cranes to maneuver close to the demolished plant area and begin swinging loads of debris across the street and into a vacant area.

Dr. Irvin Wiseman, at the scene to aid the injured, became a casualty himself while treating the foreman located in the wreckage. After clambering down from the tall pile of debris, he used a handkerchief to aid in stopping a flood of blood from his gashed left wrist.

Appearance of Co. plant building after the loud explosion, which shattered windows in nearby auto and buildings, resembled the rubble from war-time bombing. Force of the explosion was evidenced by shrapnel beams and heavy-duty steel in tanks, twisted out of shape as though they were made of plastic or cardboard.

Even small children among the huge crowds watching the workmen dig into the wreckage seemed to sense the tragedy in the situation, standing quietly at their mothers' sides.

Deaths were shown here. The smoke stack is almost pointing to the vicinity where rescue workers found the two victims early this morning, under the roof and at the base of the brick wall, near the left end of the metal cylinder.

POSITIONS ARE TAKEN by rescue workers on the roof overlooking the rubble, and welding equipment is hoisted up to help gain entry from above. Claspers on the roof relayed messages to workers below, and gave suggestions on the basis of their vantage point.

All Pictures by Press-Record Staff Photographers

When darkness came, many workmen at the scene were estimating it would be morning "before they find anyone in there."

The crowds of evening on-lookers were solemn and orderly, watching quietly from behind police barriers set up well away from the immediate area of the demolished building.

Business at a nearby tavern boomed for a night. In the evening, when crowds filled the area, lines were four deep in front of the bar.

As darkness fell on the scene, Army units from the Granite City Engineer Depot set up and manned batteries of lights, powered by portable generators mounted on trucks and trailers. The scene was described as being "as bright as day."

Civil defense workers on the job at 11:30 p.m. reported work had not slowed even in the hardest rain. About 11 p.m., the lightning was severe, but workers paid little attention to it. Some continued work without even the benefit of raincoats.

The wreckage was so tangled with steel pipes and framework that moving large bits of debris at a time proved impossible. Workers with cutting torches had to be constantly on the job, cutting the pieces of steel apart so that the wreckage could be removed.

Every time an apparent opening was made, workers stopped while rescue workers probed the area with flashlights in an attempt to locate any sign of life. The wreckage was constantly surveyed ahead of the bulldozers.

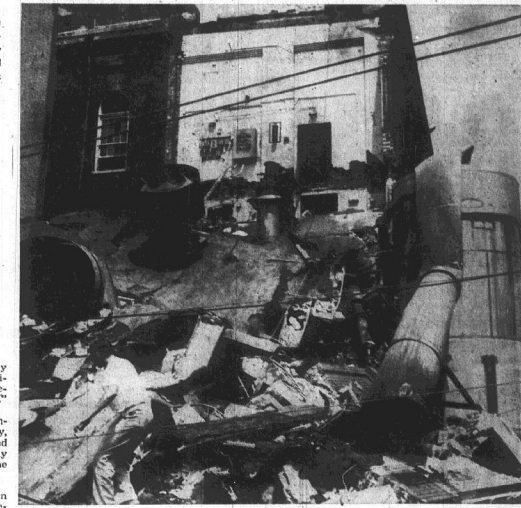

In spite of the rain, the crowd remained large, as people waited for any word of the trapped men. As many as could crowded under trees and any other shelter they could find, while others stood out in the open, apparently unmindful of the falling rain.

Rescue workers reported finding Shelby Dotson in a lying position with his head toward the wall, against which Victor Frisze was standing upright.

Deputy Coroner Henry Pieper said both men recovered. This morning were badly mutilated. Shelby Dotson was crushed by debris and was partially decapitated.

The Nestle plant in partial operation today. The P.R.C. people working, but we aren't making any coffee," a company spokesman said. He noted that full-scale work would begin "as soon as possible."

BEFORE HELP ARRIVED at the scene a Press-Record photographer recorded this shot, less than five minutes after the explosion. The wires, on which the smoke stack is resting, were taken down before rescue operations began.

POWER LINES were taken down by Illinois Power Co. crews before rescue operations could begin. Pictured here are workmen examining the wreckage before moving in heavy hauling equipment.

Thomas Hessley, 73, Ill One Year, Dies

Thomas Hessley, 73, of 1203 Washington avenue, who moved to Madison in May, died at St. Elizabeth Hospital Monday. He had been suffering from cancer of the liver for a year and was in the hospital about one month.

Born in Grant Bend, Mo., Mr. Hessley moved to Madison with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lovell Mansson, from Ashley, Ill., where he had lived for four years. His wife, Mrs. Dolly Hessley, died six years ago. He made his residence with the Manssons.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Irene Mansson of Madison, Mrs. May Lambert, Mrs. Grace Swazowski and Mrs. Lorraine Clark, all of St. Louis county; four sons, George of Ashley, Ill.; Clifford of St. Louis, Mo.; and 12 grandchildren.

Dr. Sluder said he has a long list of organizations and companies assisting in the rescue work. "I am extremely grateful to all the residents of Granite City, Madison and Venice who have helped us. They have responded unselfishly in this tragedy," he said.

"I am greatly impressed with the cooperation and attitude of the people of the area," he said.

Many sightseers were observed near the plant today.

An unidentified plant spokesman attempted to block release of information on the workers' injuries and also warned several of the men and their families against giving any information.

A Nestle public relations official who arrived here from Chicago later arranged for the injuries to be reported.

The largest crane in use was a construction crane from the Koppers Co. construction project located at Granite City Steel's Blast Furnace Division. Several of the crew had Army demolition experience and handled the task deftly.

Carl Tidwell, one of the employees in the building that exploded, had just stepped out of a soda and was not in the damaged area, his family learned with relief yesterday afternoon.

Dr. John C. Sluder, Nestle vice-president in charge of manufacturing, flew in from central offices in White Plains, N. Y., within hours of the event.

Dr. Sluder has called an informal press conference for 2:30 p. m. today.

A company spokesman said the break in operations will not reduce national company production. "Other plants probably will be able to take up the slack."

Funeral services and burial were held Wednesday in St. Louis.

Dr. Sluder has called an informal press conference for 2:30 p. m. today.

Meter Permits Pay Discussed

Issuance of parking meter permits for an auto at $10 a month or $100 a year was proposed at Monday night's city council meeting by the traffic committee, headed by Alderman Charles Meyer, but a decision was postponed pending further study.

Alderman Rufus LeMaster spoke against the plan, saying it would reduce the number of downtown parking spaces available to shoppers. Meyer said it would increase meter revenue, and help meet existing parking needs; he added that there is no provision in the new city budget for meeting the need through establishment of more off-street parking.

The large number of delinquent parking tickets was discussed, with note made that the tickets have a 48-hour time limit for payment. Meyer said stricter enforcement of parking laws would be feasible if monthly permits are granted. They would be limited to a specific car, but would be effective at any meter where the car parks.

Alderman Arthur Wieser reported on labor negotiations, noting that a strike is threatened in two weeks if the city does not permit the humane offer to be represented by a union. Wieser suggested a $25 monthly pay boost, similar to that given other city employees, but said a greater boost is sought for the humane offer to raise the pay to the union level. The $25 figure was approved 7-4.

It was decided to advertise for city engineer applicants. No action was taken on proposed compulsory retirement age and resident requirement for city employees.

PROGRESS You can be on the right track, but you'll get run over if you just sit there.

Public sentiment always makes it hotter for the man with a shady reputation than for the one who has a sunny disposition.

Heavy Equipment Assembled Quickly As City Responds To Disaster

SOUTH WING of the building, which once housed the old Wagner Brewery, is pictured here following the blast. The addition which bears the new plant's name was constructed recently.

FIRST OBSTACLE removed by crane operators was the smoke stack pictured above. Later on, as the day progressed, the stack became a resting place for observers.

HUMAN CHAIN is employed by rescue workers to pass welding torches and other tools up and into the ruins. Welding crews from all over the Quad-Cities were on hand throughout the rescue operations. Many large pieces of steel had to be cut before being hoisted away by cranes.

WORKMEN WAIT for welder atop dried coffee storage tank to cut his way through smoke stack so rescue operations can resume. Welders later cut down the parking lot fence to allow trucks to have easier access to the rubble.

DR. IRVIN WIESMAN, right center, is shown here coming out of the wreckage after he had administered aid to a plant foreman pinned under the debris. The employee was removed a few minutes later and hospitalized.

AID GIVEN to injured plant employee by Granite City firemen and rescue workers at scene of yesterday's Nestle plant explosion. Two men died in the blast and six others were injured.

Fresh from the Lettuce Patch

A gag, common among grocery store clerks, has it that when a fussy shopper walks up and asks for a fresh head of lettuce, the snappy retort is "I'll go right out in the backyard and pick one for you lady". Today whether this smartly pants clerk realizes it or not, he is not far from the facts.

Much of our produce is only hours away from the field where it is grown. Incidentally, we love the so-called fussy shopper, the woman who is particular about what she serves.

Lighting At GC High, Gymnasium In Bid Actions

Bid awards for services ranging from printing of football posters to outdoor lighting were approved at Tuesday night's meeting of the Granite City school board at the Labor Temple.

A contract for exposed electrical work amounting to $3572 was awarded to Rite Electric Co. on a low bid, with the most extensive work slated for the Senior high school.

In addition to $1758 for fluorescent lights in the machine shop, $400 for two mercury vapor lights outside the front of Memorial gym and outlets in three rooms outside the gym were approved. Other proposed outdoor lighting at the school was deferred until the approved work could be appraised.

"I want to get some kind of action, either to do it or not to do it. Something has to be done because we've gotten numerous complaints from people who go to basketball games," Supt. Harold M. Kaiser told the board.

Altogether, about 20 outdoor lights had been proposed for areas outside the vocational building, boiler room, music room, parking lot and other locations.

In deferring action on some outside lighting at the rear of Coolidge junior high school, board members pointed out that illumination is definitely desirable there because it is "always dark when you walk that way and the lights would be good protection for people at basketball games."

Board Member Homer Huber asked if it would be possible to get the desired lighting set up on a temporary basis to determine whether the results would be adequate before accepting the bid.

"You can hardly have someone put them up and let us look at it and then say put them somewhere else," President Robert Spender said after Marvin Dean, school engineer, commented that a major portion of the expense is for labor and wiring.

Huber then summed up the discussion by suggesting that the board begin with a few lights and then add more when and where they seem needed.

Other schools at which electrical work was approved were Central junior high school, $476 for outlets in 14 classrooms; Marshall school, $194 for six outlets; Nameoki school, $77 for two outlets; Proharr school, $250 for fan installation; and Logan school, $250 for fan installation.

Cleaning Contract
A low bid for cleaning of uniforms was awarded to Tri-Way Norse laundry village. It included hand uniforms, graduation robes, and football, baseball, basketball and track outfits.

Other bidders were Alright Cleaners and Grand Cleaners. For 6700 pounds of dishwashing compound, the board accepted a bid of $887 from Economics Laboratory, Inc. which although slightly higher ($900 per pound) than a bid by Canvial Chemsan Co., offers the material in smaller packages which would be easier to handle, it was noted.

Other bids were submitted by Fabulo Chemical Co., Klenzade Products, Inc., Puritan Chemical Co., and Wyandotte Chemicals Corp.

Low bids of $3389 on cafeteria paper goods resulted in awards to Switzer Wholesale Co., $2103; Stocker Hausmann Co., $263 $264; Roll-O-Sheets Inc., $392; and Graham's Book Store, $630. A contract for liquid petroleum gas for use by school cafeterias at Stallings and Mitchell, costing 11 cents a gallon, was awarded to Granite City Pur-Gas, Inc. It was noted that a bid by Ross Oil Co., Belleville, was 1/10-cent-per-gallon lower.

Plumbing fixtures will be purchased as needed from Ahrens and McCarroll, Inc. for replacements in the maintenance program during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1962. Bids also were received from Independent Plumbing and Heating Co.

Printing bids were awarded to Tri-City Printing Co., $32 for 3000 wallet-size schedule cards; and Wood River Printing Co., $27 for 24 football schedule posters and $27 for 24 basketball posters; $44 for 1500 May Day programs plus football programs at prices quoted — $28 for 300 with quantity discounts for lots of 1000, 1500 and 2000 programs.

"The amount of football programs to be ordered for each game will depend on how well the team is playing," President Robert Spengler explained.

"If we have a winning streak and it looks like we'll beat East St. Louis, why we'll order 2000!"

Open House Planned At New Furniture Store

Franklin Union Furniture Co., a firm founded in 1898 in St. Louis by Jacob Lasky, today announced two events that will take place in Granite City next week.

From 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., the firm will hold an open house at its new store, 19th street and Delmar avenue, and get acquainted with the lines of furniture that the store will carry.

Schapiro said the new Franklin Union store will stock a full line of popular lines, including modern, contemporary, early American and French provincial. Like their other stores, it will feature famous brand names in furniture as well as appliances.

The new store also will have a completely-stocked jewelry department that will carry the finest in diamonds, watches and costume jewelry. Each adult attending will receive a free souvenir.

In addition, the official grand opening will take place Monday, Aug. 14, at 9 a.m., with Mayor Leonard Davis present to cut the ribbon.

Dignitaries who plan to attend include the President of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, Paul H. Lichtenberger; the C. C. executive secretary, Marion Dobry; the president of the Associated Retailers, Maurice Rich; and the retailers' executive secretary, Al Barnes. Others invited include the Press-Record editor and publisher, C. E. Townsend, and business manager, Al J. Mueller Jr.

The group will be greeted by the following executives from Franklin Union: president, Sidney H. Jacobson; chairman of the board, M. B. Lasky; executive vice-president, Ben Schapiro; and vice-president, Harry Lasky, as well as James Singer, who has been appointed store manager.

Large Selection

Leased by Franklin Union in mid-March, the four-story building — one of the largest in the downtown business district — has been extensively remodeled. The structure contains over 25,000 square feet of floor space and an unusually large selection of home furnishings will be offered.

Air-conditioning, an elevator, modernization of restrooms, re-wiring of electrical and heating systems, painting, plastering and removal of partitions were included in the improvement program. A new store front was Franklin Union, which has headquarters at 11th street and Franklin avenue, St. Louis, also has stores at Alton, East St. Louis and Maplewood. It has signed a long-term lease with Heffner Real Estate Co. for the local building.

There are two ways to make progress — pay as you go, or stop at intervals to pay up.

Heart Attack Fatal To Mrs. Trenna Mae Kelly

Mrs. Trenna Mae Kelly, 62, Rural Route One, Edwardsville, a former Granite City resident, died suddenly Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at St. Elizabeth Hospital after being stricken by a heart attack at home.

Her husband, Harry W. Kelly, was gas distribution supervisor at the Illinois Power Co. in Granite City for nine years, coming here from Belleville in July 1950. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly moved to Edwardsville after his retirement in May 1958.

Mrs. Kelly was born in Virginia, Ill., and was one of seven children. Five brothers and one sister preceded her in death. She was a member of the First Methodist Church of Belleville. Survivors, in addition to her husband, include a daughter, Mrs. Fred (Helen) Wasson, and a son, Leroy Tinsley, both of Seattle, Wash.; six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Ray Huff Hurls Granite City Past Midtown, 1-0

Park District Gets Lone Run In 1st; Play Belleville Tonight; Spengler Out

Granite City's Park District team must win tonight on the Wood River Joyce Field in the Class A sectional tournament against the Belleville Franks in order to capture a coveted state tournament berth.

The local squad advanced to the Belleville game after Tuesday night's thrilling win over Alton Midtown, 1-0, Midtown and Granite City had split two doubleheaders this year prior to Tuesday's meeting.

Manager Dean McGovern called on Ray Huff to take the mound and oppose Midtown's Bob Bryant. Bryant hurled a two-hitter and fanned seven for Alton, but Huff responded by facing just 24 batters, striking out six, and scattering three singles.

The park district team got its two hits in the same inning and made them count. In the bottom of the first inning, Angelo Angeloff led off for Granite City and was out third to first. The next batter, Art Borchers, doubled and scored on Jim Bain's single, which followed. That was all the runs Granite City needed as Huff allowed one single in each of the second, third and fourth innings.

Since the Wood River tournament sends three representatives to the state tourney Aug. 16-21 in Monticello, Granite City must win tonight to gain at least third place. The local team won its first game with Vandalia, 8-2, but lost the next contest to the Jackson Falls, 8-7. After losing they dropped into the losers' bracket where they met Midtown, winners over Columbia, 8-2, and losers to the Alton Chiefs, 6-1.

The reason three teams go on from Wood River is that the third place team will go as the Columbia winner since no touring an RBI walk. Rudy Diak was the next batter for the insurance men. Meyer, who had walked only two batters prior to the seventh, settled down and struck out Diak for his 13th strikeout of the game.

Spengler had an excellent scoring opportunity in the third frame when Ybarra tripped with just one out. But Meyer pitched his way out of the jam by striking out Wilson and Diak.

The loss eliminates Spengler from the double-elimination tournament. The insurance men lost their first tourney game with Jackson's Fallstaffs of Alton, 3-0 on July 28, but bounced back to defeat Vandalia 2-1 in the first game of the losers' bracket last Saturday.

In action last night at the Joyce Field in Wood River, Jackson's Fallstaffs of Alton pulled a mild upset by whipping cross-town rivals, the Alton Chiefs, 9-1. Thus, the winner of tonight's Granite City-Belleville struggle will meet the Chiefs tomorrow night for the right to play Jackson's in Saturday's championship game. Game time for all three contests is 8:45.

Fatal Fourth Frame
The fatal fourth frame featured a single by Frankie Touchette that went through Don Crabtree's legs, rolled to the wall and allowed Touchette to go to third. The next Belleville batter belted a double over first base, scoring Touchette, and Rightfielder Bob Jones bled the ball, allowing the runner to advance to third. The second run scored on a wild pitch by Hoffman.

Control Troubles
In the seventh inning, Spengler's first batter was out but Hoffman touched Belleville's Meyer for a base on balls. Don Crabtree sacrificed Hoffman to second; Bill Crabtree walked and so did Jesse Ybarra. Thus, the bases were loaded with two outs, the score 2-0, and Walt Wilson the batter for Spengler.

To make it even more dramatic, Wilson worked the count to the full 3-and-2 before drawing an RBI walk. Rudy Diak was the next batter for the insurance men. Meyer, who had walked only two batters prior to the seventh, settled down and struck out Diak for his 13th strikeout of the game.

Spalding Repeats In Tuesday Night's Modified Feature

With Spalding repeated again this week as the fastest qualifier and winner of the 25-lap modified feature race in Tuesday night's stock and modified car racing at the Tri-City Speedway.

Bud Persley won the featured event of the evening by getting the checkered flag in the 15-lap tender tender special, Olie Swalenstock, which also covered 15 laps around the track.

Next Tuesday night's added attraction will be a 30-lap modified feature. Time trials at the Tri-City Speedway will start at 7:30 p.m. with the racing program following an hour later.

SPORTS BULLETIN

West grounds have forced cancellation of all park baseball games tonight and Class A tournament games in Wood River tonight also. It was announced at noon today that the park games will be played Saturday at 1:30 p.m. and the Class A tournament games will move back a night—thus Granite City will oppose Belleville Friday night.

Lowly Maryville Rallies To Upset Kelly's Girls 5-4

After winning four out of four games with Maryville, Kelly's girls dropped the fifth contest last night at Maryville, in the Girls' Twilight Softball League, 5-4.

"P. E. Meyer's team did the same thing last week when it lost to Belleville, another team it had 'owned' all season to the extent of four wins in four tries.

This time it was wilderness on the part of Pitcher Joan Messing which partially cost Meyer's squad the verdict. Leading 4-2 going into the last of the seventh, she walked in the tying run and was touched for three of Maryville's five hits in the fatal frame. She finished the game but hit one batter and walked six others in the game.

Kelly's collected eight hits, with Rosemary Archangel; Mary Mass and Joan Durso getting two each, but this barrage was not enough for the Venice team.

Meyer's squad will play a doubleheader tonight at Lee Park with Vandalia, and is expected to start Joan Turpin and Sandy Khas on the mound for the contests. On Saturday night, Kelly's will entertain Alorton at Lee Park in a single game. Both nights' action is slated to start at 8 o'clock.

Mitchell Kiwanis Plan Boat Trip For Wives

Mitchell Kiwanis members Monday night planned their annual ladies' night boat trip. Scheduled for Aug. 30, the Kiwanis will take their wives on the steamer Admiral. President Tom Smith presided over the meeting, held at Smith's cafe, with eight members attending.

Max Legate Returns To Hill Tonight

Dean McGovern, manager of the Granite City park district softball team, announced today that Max Legate will be on the mound tonight for his team as it opposes the Belleville Franks in a Class A sectional game at Wood River's Joyce Field.

Legate, who has been retired for the past four years, joined an Amateur Softball Association district with the park district team on July 5 of this year and has been practicing every other day since signing. He has made token appearances with the squad since July 5.

A history of Legate's softball fame shows that he hurled for the Granite City Merchants in 1946 and Trappers in '47 when they finished third in the state. In 1948, he left Granite City and went to Racine, Wis., where he pitched in a national fastball league till 1953, when he moved on to Milwaukee for two years.

In 1955 he was chucking for Baltimore, Md., when the team finished third in the world tournament. The next year, he moved back to Granite City and pitched for Phillips 66 of East St. Louis. On July 4 of 1957 he pitched a no-hitter for Phillips in a tournament at Wilson Park, and that was his last outing there.

Rocket Race Featured As Cub Scout Leaders Meet

A rocket race proved to be the feature of the evening at the Uniwah Cub Scout leaders roundtable meeting. Monday night, as Commissioners Bernard Miller Jr. and John Shay demonstrated new Cub Scout rocket kits.

Twenty pack leaders from nine packs attended the meeting, which had a theme of "Harvest Fair." Program kits for 1961-62 were issued, and District Scout Executive Dan Brown showed a film, "Boy From Hickory Street."

Miller announced the Commissioners Honor Roll for units who achieve 10 quality items in any given month.

The attendance award was won by Wilson PTA Pack 122, and refreshments were served by Cubmaster and Mrs. Ed Seibold of Niedringhaus PTA.

Jack Scarborough Out With Injured Shoulder

Jack Scarborough, regular second baseman for Granite City's Class A softball team, will be out of the lineup tonight with an injured shoulder. He also missed Tuesday night's contest and last night's game with Thurmer's Bar in St. Louis.

Scarborough injured his shoulder in a game last week with 8th Inning Lounge in St. Louis when he ran over on second to cover first base on a bunt play.

Men at the top have the ability to get at the bottom of things.

special street tax levy, which has been adopted in some years and not in others.

The resolution was presented by Alderman Paul Rutledge, finance committee chairman, and he was joined only by Alderman Arthur Wier in the 12-2 defeat. Opposing the levy were Aldermen Nunn, LeMaster, Meyer, Partney, Whitmer, Basarich, Mrs. Bettine, Shackelford, Vesco, Bartosik, Civar and Johnson.

Rutledge stressed that passage of the special levy was contemplated in setting up the city's 1961-62 budget, and took the position that all who supported the budget should support the levy. Mrs. Bettine countered by saying that many aldermen did not approve of the budget in its expanded final form, even though they may have voted for it after losing out on amendments.

The proposal would have authorized an additional levy of 8 1/2 cents on top of the 12-cent street levy.

Sever Repair Costs

Need for sewer funds was cited by several aldermen in supporting the special sewer tax levy. With the same 14 voting, the 104 favorable vote included "No" votes by Aldermen Nunn, Basarich, Shackelford and Civar.

W. A. Pearson, city resident engineer, said he is preparing a report on sewer breaks along Terrace lane, saying the cause is seepage through mortar of brick manholes.

He said the city could install a completely new sewer line "guarantee" or patch the line and

A cigarette machine at the city garage, 19th and Beaton streets, was looted on two successive nights—Monday and Tuesday—without most of his take the second night when he was spotted by a returning fogger machine operator.

About 90 packs of cigarettes were taken Monday night and only three coins were left in the machine, police said. The front of the machine was replaced after the theft.

A large bucket containing cigarettes was left behind by the thief in his Tuesday night visit when Paul Moore, operator of the fogger, spotted the man about 1:20 a. m. while parking

GC Police Speed Pace Of Parking Ticket Drive

Granite City police are stepping up the pace of their drive on motorists who have ignored tickets for illegal parking in past years, with fines of $300 collected during the first five days of enforcement.

By appearing at the station at the city hall voluntarily, drivers can ease violations by paying $1 for each ticket, the original fine. But if ticketed motorists wait until police serve them with a warrant, additional fines plus court costs are to be assessed.

So far, three warrants have been issued and in each case the plaintiff pleaded guilty and was fined $12, including costs, plus $1 for each unpaid ticket.

Receiving warrants were Lester Reynolds, 37, of 1235 Ninth street, Thomas Slavoff, 27, of 2836 Lake drive; and Walter Rozycki, 35, of 2017 Lindell.

Police still have thousands of violators' names, addresses and license numbers on file, and plan to concentrate first on motorists with the most tickets.

GC Police Speed Pace Of Parking Ticket Drive

Police arrested Benjamin A. McMillon, 39, of 3708 Bath drive at 7 p.m. yesterday for following too closely, after an auto accident at 2702 Nameoki road. Northbound, McMillon's car collided with the rear of a vehicle driven by Elmer Parks, 52, of 3004 Ramona drive, which had slowed for traffic, police said. He posted his driver's license as given in an obituary elsewhere pending a hearing Aug. 14 in this issue.

Eight To Compete For Jaycees' 'Miss Granite City' Title Saturday

Beauty Pageant To Be Followed By Dance

With selection of a new Miss Granite City from eight entries only 50-odd hours away, preparations for the 12th annual contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce are nearing completion. The pageant will take place at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Granite City high school.

Chairman Norman Brokaw points out that the public will get its first glimpse of the contestants during a convertible parade through the community beginning at 6 p.m. tomorrow. The entourage will assemble at the Wilson Park tennis courts and proceed down Madison avenue at a leisurely pace to the downtown area, cover it thoroughly, and then pass the home of each girl.

It is expected that the parade will be led by a tiny girl in a red sports car—who will represent Miss Granite City of 1980.

Judging Saturday

The pageant will be climaxed Saturday at the GCHS auditorium with traditional and talent judging. Four out-of-town judges will handle the near-impossible task.

They are: Toni Stein, operator of the Toni Stein modeling agency, St. Louis; Ellie Werner, producer and director of television Channel 11; Don Cunningham, sports director and announcer for Channel 11; and Mary Furry, supervisor of entertainment bookings for the Chase Hotel, St. Louis.

Varied Talent

Next, they will appear in an outfit of their choice for presentation of their talent selection—ranging from tap dancing and a classical solo to dress designing and a dramatic recitation.

For the third phase, the girls will be clad in swimming suits. The final phase will be to determine the contestants' poise and intelligence when faced with a perplexing question in public. Each girl will appear alone on the stage to hear and answer two questions which will be identical for all entries. Her final rating will depend partly on her reactions.

Crowning By Miss Lexow

The winner will be crowned by the retiring Miss Granite City, Suzanne Lexow, who was selected last year over a field of seven entries at ceremonies held under the stars in the sunken gardens area of Wilson Park.

A radio and television announcer, Chuck Norman, will be master-of-ceremonies at this year's event. Background organ music will be supplied by Jack Johnson, and a band will provide music at a dance at the Big Top Bowl "300" Room after the pageant.

The winner will automatically be Granite City's Miss Illinois candidate next summer at the statewide contest at Elk Grove, and—if she wins there—the Illinois candidate for a shot at the Miss America title.

The entries will get their first look at the judges—and viewers—at a 5 p.m. tea Saturday.

The tea will be held at the Rose Bowl restaurant, and judges will take the opportunity to rate the girls on poise and personality and also factors in determining a queen. This will be the only major phase of the contest not open to the public.

Tickets Still Available

Tickets for the pageant and ball cost $2.50 for a couple and $1.50 for a single admission and may be purchased at Graham's Book Store or from any Jaycee.

Last year, a standing crowd estimated at between 350 and 400 persons saw the coronation in Wilson Park. This year, seats are available and the ball afterwards is an innovation, designed to give the public a chance to get better acquainted with its new beauty representative.

Members of the Jaycees are assembling gifts from local merchants—including jewelry, perfume, clothing and gift certificates—for presentation to the winner and her seven attendants.

In past years, two girls from Granite City were selected as state beauty queens. In 1951, the former Miss Carol Roman, who now is married and resides in New York City. Was named Miss Missouri. And in 1950, the former

Seek Bids On 19th Street Track Removal, Resurfacing

Improvement of 19th street, Johnson road and St. Clair avenue was advanced in separate actions by the city council Monday night.

On the recommendation of the public works committee, reported by Chairman Sam Whitmer, the council decided to seek bids on removal of former street car tracks on 19th street from Cleveland blvd. to State street, pouring of concrete to replace the track area.

Plans and specifications will be drawn up and bids sought without further council action, to expedite the project.

Whitmer asked Al Pearson, city resident engineer, who is devoting most of his time currently to sewer repair projects, to obtain additional engineering help so that the 19th street plans can be prepared quickly.

Seek Fall Completion

Whitmer noted that representatives of the city had conferred with downtown businessmen and had agreed to "do all we can to help out."

Alderman Charles Meyer stressed that the work should be carried out before winter arrives.

In reply to a question by Alderman Mrs. Gabrielle Belme Pearson said improvement of 19th street has been delayed by the construction laborers' strike.

It was decided not to begin the work because the strike was approaching. Pearson said, adding that a delay after it had started would have resulted in closing of 18th street.

Johnson Road Resolution

The council approved a resolution authorizing construction of a 10-inch-thick, 34-foot-wide pavement on Johnson road from Carlson avenue to Franklin avenue. The project also is to include curbs and gutters and four-inch-thick sidewalks. Motor fuel tax funds totaling $80,000 were appropriated.

Alderman Donald Partney said many deeds and abstracts list Johnson road property extending to the center of the street, and City Attorney William Beatty explained that this does not affect the ownership. Property descriptions start from the middle of the street but do not afford ownership to that point, he added.

Alderman Sam Shackelford expressed fear that the project might jeopardize improvement of Faith avenue.

Two To Three Years Away

Whitmer explained that Faith avenue is ahead of the Johnson road project, and that the resolution was necessary to pave the way for later improvement of Johnson road. "It will be two or three years hence," he commented.

The council accepted a low bid of $153,333 from Holland Asphalt Co. on repairing a section of St. Clair avenue near Myrtle avenue that had deteriorated as a result of a previous sewer line break. A. H. Seebold bid $174,500. Whitmer's report showed.

A four-inch multi-layer surface of bituminous material is planned for the area to be repaved. It will extend 34 feet from curb to curb.

Hospital Treatment For Bike, Pool, Pipe Cuts

Lee Mitchell, 13, Rural Route One, Box 1278, was given emergency treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital Monday afternoon after catching his left foot in a wheel of his bicycle and cutting a gash in his heel. The cut required 14 stitches, and x-rays were taken. He was released after treatment.

Paul Steinhauser, nine, 1615 Lindell blvd., was treated at the hospital Monday afternoon when he was cutting his head in a fall at the Pudders Swim Club pool on Johnson road. Ten sutures were required to close cuts on his head and ear.

Among those receiving emergency aid at the hospital Monday afternoon was Ricky Richeson, seven, Dallas, Tex., who is visiting in Granite City. Five stitches were required to close a cut across the bridge of his nose received when he walked into the end of a piece of steel pipe.

Operator's Call Saves Woman From Asphyxiation

A telephone operator's call to Granite City police is credited with saving the life of Mrs. Helen Garin, 53, of 3002 Buxton avenue, on Monday.

Answering the call at 3:15 p.m., police found Mrs. Garin unconscious on the kitchen floor of her home, with gas at all four burners of the range turned on and doors and windows closed. She was rushed by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, receiving oxygen and regaining consciousness on the way. After examination at the hospital, she was released.

Authorities said the call to the Garin home came from a telephone operator, who reported she had received a call for help at that address. It has not been determined who called the operator.

Sacred Heart Hosts Moose; Mercer Idle After White City's Withdrawal

Granite City's two entries in the Inter-City League will be at home Sunday — only one team won't be playing.

Sacred Heart entertains its division leader, Moose Lodge No. 4, in a single game at Wilson Park, while Mercer picks up a victory by forfeit from White City.

White City forfeited last Sunday's game to the Moose and has announced that it was withdrawing from the league, effective immediately. Reasons given for the sudden withdrawal were financial problems and player personnel troubles.

Vernon Lucas, league president, told the Press-Record that he is trying to get some other city to take the franchise and finish out the season, but he is not having any luck. Lucas explained that all remaining games on the White City schedule will be forfeited to the opposition.

Thus, the worst Mercer can do Sunday is remain a half-game behind Blue Division leader McAtter Glass, which hosts lowly Maryville.

Meanwhile, the Hearts, who are virtually assured of staying in third place in the Red Division for the remainder of the season, will meet the powerful Moose club of East St. Louis.

Manager Lynn A. Tucker's Hearts are five games out of first place, three games out of second, and four games ahead of fourth-place Troy.

The Moose are 14-2 for the campaign, while the Hearts sport a 9-7 record after last Sunday's twin-killing of last place Maryville. Second-place Collinsville (12-4) plays host to Troy (5-11) in a single game at Fletcher Field.

A Sacred Heart win coupled with a Collinsville victory would pull the latter team to within one game of the high-flying Moose and thus set the stage for a Sept. 3 showdown between the two clubs in East St. Louis. Collinsville has one remaining game on its schedule with White City, which the Boosters will win by forfeit; whereas the Moose do not get to profit by another forfeit victory.

In one previous meeting this year, the Moose found the Hearts rather easy as they bombed the local club in East St. Louis on May 21 by a score of 23-4.

Founding out this Sunday's schedule, Pocahontas will return to Carpenter again this week.

Local Group To Be Among 600 At State Jr. Sports Jamboree

Approximately 600 boys and girls from 10 to 15 years of age will compete in the state finals of the annual Illinois Junior Sports Jamboree at Champaign-Urbana next week.

The young athletes represent the survivors of an original field of more than 50,000 youngsters who competed in local track and swimming meets earlier this summer. Winners in each event then advanced to a sectional meet, to compete for the chance to enter the state finals.

The Illinois Youth Commission will be host to the 600 young finalists at Champaign Aug. 17-19, providing for their travel by chartered bus and for their lodging in dormitories on the University of Illinois campus.

The Illinois Junior Chamber of Commerce is co-sponsor of the event, with the Champaign-Urbana chapter handling arrangements for the finals.

Youth Commission staff members and Jaycees and their wives will chaperone the youngsters throughout the trip.

All contestants will arrive in Champaign Thursday evening, Aug. 17. The jamboree events will start Friday morning with field competition at Memorial stadium and the diving finals at Champaign pool.

A parade through the community, with the boys and girls riding in buses, will signal the start of the track meet Friday afternoon, Aug. 18, and planned entertainment will be provided for the contestants in the evening. Swimming events will be held Saturday morning, Aug. 19, and the jamboree will conclude with a banquet and presentation of awards Saturday afternoon.

Mercer Seeks Game

Manager Ollie Miller of the Mercer baseball team is seeking a game for its round this Sunday since the Inter-City League game with White City has been forfeited due to White City's withdrawal from the league. Miller wants to play an exhibition game on the road. Any team interested should contact Miller at TR. 7-0881.

READY TO JUMP into Wilson Pool at two-second intervals are part of the 92 youngsters who have completed a course for non-swimmers held at the park this summer. The youngsters, aged eight to 15 and residents of the park district, learned basic self-preservation in water during the free program. They received beginners' certificates from the American Red Cross, plus awards from the park district. The "jump sequence" was arranged for inclusion in a color movie being made to depict various activities of the park. The film will be available for viewing this fall.

Western Pleasure Class Will Be Among Highlights of Horse Show

Three events are expected to create exceptional interest at the 1961 Rotary Horse Show to be held Saturday, Aug. 26, at 7 p.m. at the Tri-City Speedway. These are the Gent's Western Pleasure Class, Ladies' Western Pleasure Class, and Junior Western Pleasure Class.

All riders in the ladies' and gentlemen's western classes must be 16 years of age or over. The horses must show walk, trot and canter in both directions around the ring. Riders must not be asked to go from trot to a canter.

Loose Rein
Horses receive a lesser count if they trot while changing from a walk to a canter. They must be ridden with a reasonably loose rein with the left hand at all times. The horse must use proper leads. The use of stallions as pleasure horses is at the discretion of the show committee, and the use of tie-downs is not permitted.

The Junior western pleasure class is operated under the same rules as the other two classes, but the rider must be 15 years of age or under and the horse 13 hands or over.

Any horse winning a place in any of these three events may not be entered in any of the other two events.

Boaters To Spend Vacation On Water
Ten to twelve families, who belong to the Bow Line Boat Club, will leave Friday about 5:30 p.m. for a one-week vacation on the water. The group will travel from the mouth of the Hartford Canal up the Missouri River to Kansas City.

A spokesman for the group said they will go about 50 or 60 miles Friday before camping for the night. By Saturday night they hope to reach Booneville, Mo., and then arrive in Kansas City the following day.

Last year, a similar group spent vacation time boating to Nashville, Tenn.

35-Plus Standings Decided

Not letting up, Big Top Bowl, already possessor of an undisputed 35-Plus Slow Pitch softball league title, whipped VFW Post 1300 Monday night at the Wilson Park softball layout, 10-6.

The kenglers posted their 10th win in 11 decisions, while second-place Trust Bank assured itself of the runner-up spot by winning by forfeit over last-place Club Delmar. None of the positions in the four-team league can be affected by next Monday's play, the final games before playoffs.

Big Top conquered VFW with the longball hitting of E. Bauer, Bob Dant and Sonny Mlonaki, who hit homers, Mlonaki was the winning pitcher and Mack McConner was the catcher for the league champions. Ed Camper suffered the loss, and he was hit by Rocky Eassey.

VFW scored twice in the first inning, three times in the third while the kenglers countered with six safes. Big Top scored three in the third, four in the fourth, twice in the fifth and once more in the sixth inning.

The 35-Plus standings:

Team	W	L	GB
Big Top Bowl	10	1
Trust Bank	7	4
VFW Post 1300	4	7
Club Delmar	1	10

Jerry Voloski No-Hits KC In Class B

Jerry Voloski's no-hit Tuesday night at Wilson Park against the Knights of Columbus put his Modern 9's team in a third-place tie in the Class B Softball League with Idle Club Delmar.

Modern humbled the Knights 5-0, behind Voloski's hurling. The win boosted Modern one game over the .500 mark with a 6-5 record for the year. Rudy Diak caught for the winners. Mike Schuler pitched and Jack Trischuh did the receiving for the K of C.

In the other league game Tuesday night, Bob Morris belted a seven-run homer and scored all the way on an error on another occasion to lead the Moose past Granite City Steel Credit Union 5-2.

Neal Melton got the win and Jim Childers was tagged with the loss. George Cook caught for the losers and Rich Briggs was behind the plate for the Moose. The win lifted the Moose to a 10-1 record for the season and increased their lead over second-place Spangler Insurance to two and a half games. Spangler was idle.

Ogden To Display Model B-25 Sunday At Mississippi Valley Championships

ON DISPLAY SUNDAY at the Mississippi Valley Model Airplane Championships at Wilson Park will be this scale model of a B-25. The plane, built by Howard "Bill" Ogden, features numerous movable parts. The contest is being sponsored by the Tri-City Sky Stealers.

This year's entry by Ogden features revolving gun turrets, landing lights, retractable gears, bomb drop, motor control and a miniature flight crew.

Certain to be competing Sunday will be 14 other models. The first three-place winners in each of the five classes, plus a special beginners' stunt event with a modified stunt pattern. The five open events are stunt, scale, proto, "rat race" and combat. Registration on Sunday opens at 10 a.m. and closes at noon.

National Entry
An added attraction at the contest will be the display of Howard "Bill" Ogden's detailed model of a B-25. Ogden entered his model in the national open scale class recently at the Willow Grove, Pa., Naval Air Station.

In a warmup session at the nationals, Ogden was flying his plane when the crowd went beyond the restraining ropes and pulled the planes' wires in, hand over hand. The result was that he had to have seven stitches taken in his fingers.

Venice High Pupil Takes College Science Course

Frank Edward Bartlett, 16, Venice high school student, has just satisfactorily completed a summer course in college chemistry at the Northeast Missouri State Teachers College, Kirksville, Mo. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Gaffney, 207 Granville street, Venice.

Bartlett was selected because of ability and interest in the areas of science and mathematics. His admission to the program was based on the recommendation of his chemistry teacher and principal, Lewis Sablin and high school grades and test scores were considered.

The college program for the high school students was sponsored cooperatively by the National Science Foundation and Northeast Missouri State Teachers College. It was designed to provide outstanding high school science students with an opportunity to take advanced courses in physics or chemistry.

Bartlett had a rigorous schedule for the eight-week college session, in that he spent one hour in Special English, one hour in Special Mathematics and five hours per day in College Chemistry, in addition to two hours each evening for study periods in the library.

Instructors were available practically all hours of the day and night for consultation on problems and questions which pertained to the specialized area of chemistry. Because of the ability of the high school student in the Cooperative College-School Science Program and also because of close supervision in counseling, the students were able to advance more rapidly than would be expected of college freshmen. Dr. Dean A. Roseberry, director, reported.

ENGAGED. Miss Jane Ann Groshong, whose engagement to William T. Seilheimer, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pickham of Worth, Ill., is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion R. Groshong, 1231 Klein street, Venice.

Brighter Street Lights In GC Downtown Area Ordered

New, brighter street lighting for the downtown business district of Granite City was ordered by the city council Monday night.

Mercury-vapor lights of 20,000-lumen intensity are to be installed, replacing 162 existing lights. New arms and bulbs will be utilized, affording lighting identical to that along Madison avenue.

The work is to be performed by the Illinois Power Co., with an added cost to the city, including the installation and greater electric power, amounting to $4500 a year, the council was told by Frank Vesel, public safety committee chairman.

Prior to the favorable vote, Mrs. Gabrielle Betinec, alderwoman, also urged brighter downtown lighting.

The council also authorized City Comptroller John Doehner to seek bids on a deluge gun for the fire department.

Linked To Rate Reduction
Vesel said the reduction in Granite City fire insurance rates this year was made with the understanding that a deluge gun would be provided.

COUNSELING OF UNMARRIED MOTHERS is an integral part of the services of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society, newest agency to join the United Fund. With offices in Alton, the organization annually arranges adoption of children for about a dozen Quad-Cities couples and places other children in foster homes here. One Granite City family has served as foster parents for 28 children out of the agency. Here, a counselor (left) discusses child placement with a teenage girl.

Added This Year

Ill. Children's Home Is Newest UF Agency

The latest addition to the list of United Fund agencies has a long record of service in foster home and adoption placement in the Quad-Cities.

The Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society, a state-wide welfare organization with regional offices at 10 East Broadway, Alton, last year cared for seven Quad-City children through its adoption service, and many times that number through foster homes in the area. It also gave assistance to three local unwed mothers.

With the joining of the aid society for the 1962 campaign, another separate fund-raising drive has been eliminated in the Quad-Cities. Formerly, the organization had solicited contributions in a "Christmas Stocking" drive. Also, the additional service available to local residents does not duplicate the functions of any other agency.

Complete child care. Illinois Children's Home provides medical and pre-adoption boarding care for infants. It studies and selects adoptive families, counseling them on the special problems they will meet, and reports to the court having final jurisdiction.

The organization began in Vandalia in 1884 and opened a year later in Madison county at Edwardsville. The district offices were moved to Alton 15 years ago.

The agency's work centers around finding a suitable home environment for children. The ramifications of this policy take it into the courts, into aid for unwed mothers and adoptive and foster parent placement.

If a child's parents have been convicted of repeated breaches of the law, a county court may rule that the parents are unfit to care for the child. In such a case the agency is called in to find a foster home.

If an unwed prospective mother has nowhere to turn, the agency steps in to pay for maternity care in a hospital. After the baby is born, a caseworker counsels the mother to help her decide what is to be done with her baby. In the one out of three cases in which the girl decides to keep her child, the agency is often able to find her a job to support it.

If the girl prefers to place the infant for adoption, the agency will do all the work of preparing the legal report for the courts, meanwhile finding a home for the baby.

Recent Case. In a case handled last summer, a 17-year-old girl came to the agency offices, saying she could not bring herself to tell her parents that she was to be a mother. The daughter of a worker who traveled about the country nine months of the year, the girl had been in four different high schools in two years. Earlier, she had lived with her grandparents while her parents were away.

She told agency caseworkers she was never close to either her parents or grandparents. They had generally allowed her to go her own way. The doctor she consulted suggested she go to the Illinois Children's Home for advice and assistance.

She returned to the agency offices for counseling about three times a week. Meantime, the agency contacted her parents and grandparents, talked to them about the girl's emotional problems and got them to agree to a more responsible attitude toward her.

The girl entered an area hospital, staying four months after the baby was born. Because the family was relatively wealthy, it paid for part of the hospital expenses and the agency paid the remainder. During her stay, the girl was visited by a caseworker who told her of the problems of an unwed mother raising a child. She also pointed out the large number of girls who are able to provide adequately by working and perhaps living with an older family that will care for the child while the mother is at work.

Counseling of Mothers. The counseling period is intended to give the girl a realistic picture of the life she would face regardless of the decision she makes. The final judgment is always in the hands of the mother, with the agency attempting guidance only.

While this girl was in the hospital, Illinois Children's Home had studied the home environment of all the couples seeking to adopt children. The investigation is a matter of routine, done in case the mother decides to relinquish her child. If the agency waited until after the decision, the baby would be without an actual home for a period of months.

After four months, the girl decided to place the infant, a normal, alert baby boy, for adoption. Two weeks after the decision, an adoptive family had gained custody of the child and taken home.

Legal custody is not gained until a year after first adoption proceedings. In the interim, the agency visits the family, notes the growth of the child and tries to help the new parents solve any problems which might arise.

The natural mother also has returned during the year to talk to agency workers about her new adjustment.

The Alton office serves an area in a 50-mile radius of the city, having placed children in homes as far away as Quincy and Jacksonville. The general area includes Madison, Macoupin, Greene, Jersey and Calhoun counties.

In 1960, the agency provided assistance for 45 adopted children and 20 unwed mothers and 65 families apply for adoption. A non-sectarian, interracial organization, it handled one-fifth of all the adoptions in Madison county.

Major costs involved in child placement. The agency charges no fees for Quad-City couples. Lawyer and court costs are the only pre-adoption expenses.

The significance of local fund campaigns in a state-wide organization such as Illinois Children's Home is that certain services are available only in communities where they are locally supported. In this region, for example, the agency is financially able to provide foster family care for a baby only in communities in which the agency is supported by some sort of fund like the Community Chest or United Fund.

Local support of the agency insures that all needed child services will be available to Quad-Citians.

To prevent conflicts between natural and adoptive parents, children are placed in homes in areas different from the one in which they were born or those in which their natural parents reside. Hence, a baby born to a Granite City mother might be placed in a home in Greene county.

Supervisor of the Alton office is Miss Mary T. Yowell, while Mrs. Tom Shift is the board of directors president. A secretary is the other full-time worker at present, while a caseworker post is vacant.

Total expenses for 1960 were $30,825. About 45% of that was contributed by the Alton-Wood River Community Chest and the Edwardsville Chest. Seventeen per cent came from endowment and contributions, while the county court supplied about 10%.

The remaining 28% was a deficit made up through funds from the central office in Chicago.

For 1962, the United Fund has allocated $2500 to the agency. An estimate of the service given in dollars to the Quad-Cities during 1960 by the agency is $9988.

Madison Council Approves Elimination of 6 Bus Stops

A police department recommendation for elimination of six bus stops on Madison avenue after the current widening and resurfacing project is completed was approved by the Madison city council at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The recommendation, reached after conferences with bus company officials, calls for elimination of stops for both north and southbound buses at Second, Fourth and 13th streets. Following council approval, Mayor Stephen Maeras said he will request the action by the bus firm.

Maeras told the council he turned the matter over to the police department for study in the hope that some of the lesser-used stops could be eliminated, giving the city mere parking space in the main business district.

Removing stops for both north and southbound buses will increase parking space on each side of the street, he said.

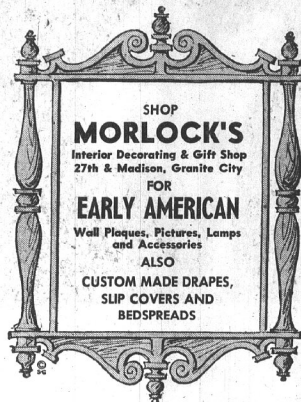

In other action, the council voted approval of an Illinois Power Co. request for permission to install a new gas line on the east side of Madison avenue. The company said installation could be done with a minimum of inconvenience to customers while the present street work is being done.

Mayor Maeras read a letter from Mrs. Nellie Polotzek, 1426 Fifth street, suggesting a campaign to encourage display of flags along Madison avenue on national holidays. She asked if the city or a civic organization could furnish flag holders for the merchants' use.

The mayor said the Madison Rotary Club has offered to furnish flag holders, and he felt it proper for the city to encourage such flag display. Sleeves for flag holders are being installed in the new sidewalks as its civic and charitable projects they are built, he said. They will be flush with the sidewalk surface and no handicap to pedestrians.

Amvets Letter

The mayor also read a letter from Harry W. Perkins, commander of Amvets Post 204, thanking the city for the privilege of participating in the July 9 p.m. after a 30-minute session.

Landfill Operation At Dump Could Cut Sanitation Department Costs

(This is the 17th in a series of articles based on a reorganization study of city government in Granite City by Southern Illinois University.)

A survey of city refuse collection and disposal procedures is recommended by the SIU team of government experts to determine whether better service could be rendered more economically through a five-step program.

"The following items should be considered:

"(1)—The city should consider a landfill operation at the city dump to replace the present hog feeding program operated by the contractor at the dump. This would greatly improve the pickup refuse because garbage and other refuse would no longer have to be segregated.

"(2)—An engineering study should be made as to the best method of utilizing the present dump area as a landfill including determinations of the type of equipment to be used, the source of cover material and the type of dumping area to be used.

"Return To Private Contractor?"

"(3)—A study should be made to see whether the return to a contract operation of the refuse collection and disposal program would be more economical. The present age of the city's collection equipment and the availability of a reliable contractor should be taken into consideration.

"(4)—If the city continues to operate the refuse collection and disposal program, it should set up a regular replacement schedule for the vehicles needed. The present collection equipment is becoming increasingly depreciated. Five of the seven collection trucks are old and near the end of their period of usefulness. Their continued use will result in mounting repair costs.

"(5)—A detailed study of the pickup routes and schedules should be made to ensure the most efficient use of the men and equipment. If garbage and other refuse can be mixed it will be possible to pick up or schedule for two pickups per week in residential areas and only in the commercial areas.

"The sanitary location is under the direction of the city inspector, the assistant city inspector and the humane officer, responsible to the mayor, oversee the refuse collection, the dog control, insect control and weed moving activities.

"Financially, the sanitation and dog control programs are set up in separate funds. Each of these activities, which are to be included in the sanitation division of the proposed Department of Public Works, are outlined here in detail.

Collection Costs

"In 1959 and 1960, Granite City paid $147,303 and $141,025, respectively, for the garbage and refuse collection function and received $149,093 and $144,493 in revenues. These amounts include transfers from other funds of $25,000 in 1959 and $20,000 in 1960.

"The 1960 expenditures included $110,713 for salaries, $8800 for maintenance of the dump, $10,523 for vehicle maintenance and fuel, $8200 for miscellaneous expenses and $732 for capital outlay.

"The higher figures do not include the salaries of the city inspector and assistant city inspector, who spend a portion of their time in sanitation activities. The capital outlay is for the purchase of a steam cleaner.

"The city picks up refuse including tin cans and garbage from all residences and places of business in the city once a week. The material is deposited in a dump which is owned by the city, but is run by a contract operator.

"Previous to 1949 the present dump operator owned the dump area and collected garbage and refuse in the city or a tract. Wishing to get out of the collection business, he sold it to the city and then took a lease from the city on the use of the dump.

"The operator agrees to maintain the dump in good condition, to receive all material collected by the city and to maintain the dump access road.

Dump Maintenance Costs

"The agreement, expiring June 30, 1960, has been renewed for a three-year period. The city pays the dump operator $8800 per year to maintain the dump, and the operator also runs a hog feeding program and has salvage rights on all material deposited at the dump.

"The dump is located on U. S. Highway 67 in St. Clair County adjacent to the county line. It is about four miles from the center of Granite City and seven miles to the farthest parts of town. The dump is located in an area of marshy ground, a considerable distance from any residential areas.

"There are other dumps, landfills and auto wrecking yards in the vicinity. There is no industrial development in the area.

"At present, there is considerable highway congestion in connection with Interstate Routes 55 and 70. Outside of state regulations covering the burning of materials near a highway where the smoke might create a traffic hazard, there are no problems with continuing

An $8200 garbage truck purchase was approved Monday night by the city council of Granite City, setting on the recommendation of its public works committee.

Successful bidder was the Valley Truck Equipment Co., which listed a $450 trade-in allowance on an $8200 Ohio Collectomatic truck. It has 16 cubic yards of capacity and load loading.

Also received were a $10,175 bid on a Leach Packmaster with 17 cubic yards and load loading, and a $7700 bid on a 20-cubic-yard Hercules truck with side loading.

The recommendation was based on tests of the equipment by sanitation department employees, Chairman Sam Whitmer reported. A 90-day guarantee, identical to that on new garbage trucks, will be provided.

Alderman Walter Norn, only one to vote against the purchase, opposed buying of used equipment, saying, "the city of Granite City has never had to buy somebody else's equipment. We ought to buy it new or not at all." Whitmer said the saving will be substantial.

Alderman Arthur Wierer reported a three-inch crack inside the vehicle and was told that the guarantee would cover it if it needs repairs.

Walk, Curb Repairs

A contract for sidewalk, curb and gutter repair work was awarded to Milam Construction Co., Pershing avenue, on its low bid of $228 a foot on curb and gutter work, 42 cents a square foot on four-inch-thick sidewalk and 60 cents a square foot on six-inch-thick sidewalk.

The council voted to hire Engineer Ed Juneau to prepare plans and specifications on the sidewalk to be installed along 27th street, from Center street to Benton, and along Benton street, from Indiana street to the end.

Alderman Norn questioned why the work was not given to Al Pearson, resident city engineer, and Pearson said he is occupied with sewer repairs. It was noted that there is no walk on either side of the streets and that a walkway is needed for school children. Alderman Charles Meyer stressed the danger to children from traffic hazards.

GC Steel Water Line

Permission was granted to Granite City Steel Co. to install a water line under the intersection of 21st and Omaha streets as a preliminary to later installation of a 24-inch-diameter pipe along 21st, Omaha, 20th and 19th streets as an additional connection between the steel mill and its water reservoir.

Possibility of establishing a 600-ton load limit on 24th street between Adams and Benton was referred to the public works committee without discussion, for further study.

GC School Board Hires 11 Teachers For 1961-62 Year

The Granite City school board Tuesday night voted to hire 11 new teachers, accepting two resignations and approved a leave of absence of one year.

Elected to teaching positions for the 1961-62 school year were John Bilgere, 28, 1933 bachelor degree, Vanderbilt, Spanish at Coolidge; Miss Virginia K. Bozarth, 1961 degree, Southern Illinois University, block class and art at Central; Gale Garbe, 21, 1961 degree, Eastern Illinois University, driver education teacher and assistant baseball coach, high school.

Mrs. Valda Lee Glazik, University of Missouri degree, third grade at Stalling; Jack Carl Holcomb, 38, 1951 degree from Shurtleff, mathematics at Central; Mrs. Sandra Bari Kopsky, 27, 1957 - S.U. degree, English grade at Wilson; Miss Katharine Jane Kratz, Western Illinois University degree, art and English at senior high school.

Harold Roger Manuel, 27, 1955 degree at Eastern Illinois University, driver education and assistant football and basketball coach, high school; Miss Alma Louise Middleton, 1961 degree at University of Illinois, German at Junior high school; Mrs. Vera Pittman, 1947 S.U. degree, third grade, Mitchell; and Mike Sigheira, 23, 1960 S.U. degree, science at Coolidge.

Principal Leaving

Resignations were accepted from Miss Jo Ann Malmberg, fifth grade teacher at Frohardt school, who will attend the University of Illinois; and Leland Bartley, principal at Lake elementary school, who will accept a principalship with the Army Dependent School in Europe.

The present system of approving resignations was reappraised by the board during discussion of Bartley's request, approval of which was recommended by Supt. Harold M. Kaiser.

If cases such as this we never turn a person down," Board Secretary George Eubanks said, "but we should make it a part of their record what they did here."

He referred to unexpected departures.

Board Member Almer Huber said he believes a teacher who plans to resign should talk it over in advance with Supt. Harold M. Kaiser in order to alert him of the coming vacancy.

"But if they want to go, it's certainly best to let them," he added. "You really can't do anything about filling the position until they resign, so what good would that do?" questioned President Robert Spengler.

Dr. Kaiser told the board that

MRS. HELENA A. TODOROFF, 3120 Colgate place, receiving a $15 suggestion award from Roy Brown, chief of the engineer regional maintenance office at the Granite City Engineer Depot. Both are employees of the U. S. Army engineer maintenance center and military construction supply agency.

John Harbig Breaks Hip In Fall From Ladder

A 73-year-old Granite City man underwent emergency surgery at St. Elizabeth Hospital Tuesday for a hip fracture suffered when he fell from a ladder while picking apricots.

John Harbig, 2200 St. Clair avenue, was injured about 6 p.m. Monday at his home. The ladder on which he was standing slipped, and he fell to the ground. He is in fair condition at the hospital.

Others treated Tuesday at the hospital were J. Allen Meyers, six, 726 Twenty-Eighth place, laceration to right side of forehead; Edward Faith, 20 months, Rural Route Four, Edwardsville, cut to upper lip suffered in a fall against a wooden box; three stitches; and Constance Kinke, five, 1601 Pontoon road, ten stitches to close a laceration to the left leg, cut while riding a bicycle.

"although it would hurt us, I think we should let him (Bartley) go. But if we refuse to accept his resignation, I believe it will stay." Unanimous approval of the resignations followed.

Mrs. Wilma Tripp, first grade teacher at Wilson school was granted a leave of absence for the 1961-62 school year because of illness.

Farm Column

By IRUMAN W. MAY
Madison County Farm Adviser

The greatest problem on most dairy farms right now is how to avoid the usual seasonal slump in milk production.

Hot weather and flies are most frequently blamed for the late summer slump in milk production. A lack of feed nutrients is probably the cause on more farms than these two factors.

Decreases in milk production due to temperature may occur when the mean temperature is 80 degrees or more. However, many things can be done to keep cows more comfortable. Keep them in the shade during the hottest part of the day. If cows are on pasture, arrange for them to graze during the forenoon, not at night. Provide abundant supplies of cool water at all times.

Can Cut Milk Production? Decrease of up to 20% in milk production have been reported where flies were not controlled. Flies should not be a problem on farms where good sanitation is practiced and sprays are used. Be sure to keep calf pens clean and do not allow manure to accumulate around the buildings.

The quality of forage from either grazing or green chopping is apt to be poorer in mid-summer. Unless a very carefully planned program has been followed, more mature plants will be present. As plants mature they become less palatable and digestible. Cows consume less forage and may get insufficient amounts of nutrients unless more grain or silage or hay is provided.

Watch milk production. If a drop occurs, check the feeding program. Make sure the cows are obtaining adequate feed nutrients before laying all the blame on hot weather and flies. It is usually necessary to supply more nutrients from grain, silage, or hay to cows on August pasture than is required by cows on June pasture.

No Ottawa Wheat Seed Several farmers have asked about the possibilities of getting seed of the new hard wheat varieties, especially Ottawa, Canada and Warrior, all of which we had in our variety test plots this year. They did not do particularly well in the tests, but farmers are looking for something better than the Pawnee and Ponca varieties.

Seed for one of these three varieties will be available for general distribution for seeding this fall and farmers will just be wasting their time, trying to find it.

There is a demand for a new hard red wheat of the Ottawa mosaic disease.

Ottawa has been getting the most publicity of the three new varieties. One of its advantages are resistance to leaf rust, hessian fly and mosaic.

Remote Isle In Mississippi River . . . Another Problem For Sheriff Musso

Madison County Sheriff George Musso learned recently that he now has an island under his jurisdiction.

The startled law officer, told the Press-Record when confronted with the possibility of having to patrol it, "As of now we have no way of reaching the island."

"I don't own a boat and neither do any of my deputies. We could possibly assign a special deputy there if people started going there again. And then, of course, we could always call in the coast guard."

The possibility of having to patrol the remote island arose in recent weeks when the county board of supervisors renewed its claim to Mosenheim Island. The action came after Board Chairman Gus Haller, reported hearing that the city of St. Louis intended to claim the island. The supervisor said Madison county's claim is supported by a federal Interior Department geological survey.

World Welcome Launch "None of the supervisors have approached me concerning patrol of it. I don't think they have the money for the purchase of a boat to patrol it, but I'd sure welcome the addition of a launch to our deputies," Sheriff Musso concluded. So the result is that Madison county has an island that everyone seemed to forget until St. Louis made a move to claim it.

A search for history of the island resulted in numerous accounts, ranging from a Civil War legend to a ghost tale. It is owned now by the Niedringhaus trustees and John Wesley "Pop" Seneff is their land agent. Seneff said a pure legend has it that the island got its name from a steamship that sank while carrying the Civil War. He also heard that some squatters by the name of Mosenheim lived there for a while. Jake Reintges reportedly got a quick-claim deed from Mrs. Mosenheim in the 1890s.

Another report from Mrs. Walter Bauer of Edwardville said that an old hermit fisherman and his horse lived there around that time. The old man, no one recalls his name, fished and farmed the island and when the spring floods brought high water, he and his horse would perch themselves on a platform that the hermit built in a tree. There was a house on the island that the hermit had built but all that remains today are some remains of a chimney.

"Pop" Seneff went on to tell how the old man became ill and died. The high levee he had built and his horse went to his aid where he went. In the 1940s, an ex-convict operator, George Holtgrewe, had visions of making the island a poor man's recreation center. He signed a 10-year lease on it May 10, 1949, but had been operating a small home-made motor launch from the foot of Humboldt avenue in St. Louis to the island since 1943. In 1949, he invested $5000 in a 42 x 12 foot, open-type gasoline launch which could transfer 100 persons a trip. He began selling soda and sandwiches, filled the levee at his embarkation point with 4000 loads of rock and installed a marine railway for launching boats.

Business started booming in 1949. There is a stiff straw and stands somewhat better than Pawnee, but not as good as swimmer's flight. All this time the ferry was still taking swimmers and sunbathers to the island. On June 30, 1955, a St. Louis vacationing reporter, Emmett Patrick Hayes Jr., decided to spend the afternoon on the island. Clad in only a pair of swimming trunks he started walking around the island. About halfway he realized he was going to miss the 6 p.m. ferry—the last trip back to St. Louis until the following morning. He attempted to cut across the island but by the time he reached the ferry landing, his boat was gone.

That night he dug a hole in the sand to escape the mosquitoes but didn't for when he was found the next day he had "several hundred" bites, bruised feet from walking on stones and cut from stepping on thorns. A doctor said the bites caused no lasting ill effects. When asked how he felt, Hayes commented, "I just didn't know how big that island was."

Mosenheim, on a map, appears to be about three miles long and a mile wide at its broadest point. Fred Bilyeu and his wife, Benita, told the Press-Record that there is a sand bar at the north end of the island that reaches the biggest part of the way to the bridge. The Bilyeys operated and lived at the Gabaret Island pumping station directly across from Mosenheim from 1945 until it was abandoned in 1949. Mrs. Bilyeu's father, Al Hunt, had been at that station 27 years before he retired in '45. She had lived out there since she was seven months old. She estimated that the Bilyeys had been on the island since 1945. She said that the island was about 1000 acres with a large timber.

Gabaret isn't classed as an island any more since the canal was dug. All that remains of it is a small island. The old pumping station is a smoke stack directly across from Mosenheim on the Illinois side.

The unusually heavy rains at the peak of the growing season, along with increased use of fertilizers and better crop varieties are the main reason for the prospect of high crop yields. Insect and disease losses have been less than usual.

Many people not very familiar with farm matters often get the idea that high yields mean great profits and much prosperity to farmers. To a degree this is true, but high yields usually mean lower prices. Farm prices have been low for several years and any increase in income above farm costs will be well come to all concerned. Farm costs, like expenses in all business, have greatly increased the last few years.

Form Group Discusses Collective Bargaining

A group of 30 from Madison county was among 13,000 farmers who traveled to Des Moines, Ia., Monday for a six-hour convention on farm prices.

Members of the National Farmers' Organization, they met to consider blanket hold-out action with farm products until they obtain collective bargaining rights to set market prices. They decided to allow directors of the organization to withhold the products if their claim is not met. One of the four major farm groups in the country, NFO bases its claim to price-setting rights on the Capers' Holstead act of 1922. The law permits organized producers to bargain collectively for market prices. The other three large farm groups are made up primarily of sellers, a NFO spokesman said. The group met in the veterans memorial auditorium in Des Moines.

July Traffic Through Locks No. 27 Highest This Year

Traffic for Chain of Rocks Canal Locks No. 27 reached its peak for this year in July, according to a report received today from the district Corps of Engineers office in St. Louis. July freight traveling on the canal and through the locks totaled 2,418,845 tons.

Despite the increase in total tonnage, there was a noticeable decrease in government freight. The 225-ton total is far below last June's figure of 1,150 tons. The lowest government tonnage figure recorded this year prior to last month's was 600 tons in April, and the highest was 20,100 tons in January.

Previous high for total tonnage this year was seen in May, 2,342,748 figure, July's figure raised the seven-month total to 13,414,561, which is 817,372 tons over the first seven-month total for 1960.

4696 Vessels In addition to topping the tonnage figures for the first seven months of this year, the number of vessels and lockages also set a high for the same period of 1960. One thousand and 4696 lockages were required to handle 4696 vessels.

Previous highs this year had been 3638 vessels in May and 808 lockages in June. The number of lockages reported for the same month a year ago was 828. Once again, traffic in tons up stream was greater than that going downstream, 1,340,305 tons to 1,078,540 tons.

A breakdown of tonnage figures by product for the month of July follows: Petroleum products — up 531,710, down 189,250; grain — up 24,300, down 707,700; coal — up 386,800, down none; cement, sand and gravel — up 5650, down none; sulphur — up 73,350, down none; miscellaneous commodities — up 209,695, down 85,715; iron and steel products — up 22,650, down 84,550; and chemicals — up 86,150, down 11,200.

Commercial boats using the locking facilities during the past month included 690 towboats, 24 tug boats, and 26 contractors' boats. Six hundred and fifty-one private recreational boats passed through the locks and no small craft or passenger boats were reported to have used the facilities.

U. S. Government traffic included five towboats, 44 barges, two small crafts and eight patrol boats.

Area Births Nearly Four Times July Death Total

Almost four times as many births as deaths were recorded for the Quad-City area for the month of July, according to figures just released by Granite City Clerk A. L. Stevens, who compiles vital statistics for the entire area.

Stevens reports 116 births for the Quad-City area during July, with 30 deaths and one stillbirth. The death total is the second lowest for any month of the year thus far, while the number of births is surpassed only by January's 151.

The July birthrate is lower than the comparable figure for last year, when 139 births were recorded. One less death was recorded. One less death was recorded for July 1960, and two still births were listed for that month.

The award is under the direct supervision and promotion of local pastors. Information, record books and folders are available at the council office or from neighborhood commissioners.

God, Country Scouting Award Applications

An increasing number of Boy Scouts in the Quad-City area is becoming interested in the God and Country scouting award, reports to the Cahokia Mound Council indicate.

To win the award scouts must study and serve satisfactorily in areas of Christian citizenship, fellowship, witness, faith and outreach.

NEED GUTTER REPAIRS CALL DOUGLAS, TR. 6-2988

A breakdown of the 1961 vital statistics to date follows, listing births, stillbirths and deaths, in that order: Jan., 131, 0 and 38; Feb., 110, 4 and 32; Mar., 96, 1 and 22; April, 109, 1 and 34; May, 87, 3 and 46; June, 91, 1 and 36; and July, 116, 1 and 30.

Mitchell Girl Says Arm Wounds Self-Inflicted

A teenage Mitchell girl who was found unconscious last week with her arm apparently mutilated by an unknown male assailant has admitted to county authorities that her original account was false and that she carved the words "just joking" into her arm.

During an investigation conducted by Deputy Sheriff Bill Thompson, the 14-year-old girl admitted to carving the words "just joking" into her arm.

The deputy said he finally secured a confession after taking the girl to the scene of the reported assault, where he said "nothing corresponded" to anything she had said.

The girl's arm was treated by a private physician after the injury.

Kerner Signs 26 More Bills Into Law This Week

Gov. Otto Kerner early this week signed 26 new bills into law, while vetoing five others.

Heads of districts in the state will be asked to levy a maximum tax rate of 10 cents on $100 assessed valuation through referendum, instead of 6 cents.

Another health department bill provides that the public health officer and professional health personnel shall have qualifications by the state department of health.

Must Dim Lights
Motorists are now required to dim their lights when approaching another car from the rear at night. The lights must be dimmed when cars are within 350 feet of each other. The present law requires only that the lights be dimmed when approaching.

Townships are now authorized to set up and maintain detailed record systems to aid in tax assessments. Loans to college students of up to $1000 a year at $5000 total were approved. The law calls for formation of a 30-member commission to study the need for private funds to back loans made by a bank. An applicant would be required to show the commission and, if recommended, would have the bank notified of the commission's guarantee.

Three Airport Bills
The governor signed three bills to give financial aid to measure will require the state department of aeronautics, upon request, to study the need for airport where a hazard exists, to adopt and administer zoning laws until the airport is able to do so.

The second bill permits the state to give financial aid to the acquisition of land and remove the requirement that all money for the acquisition of land of a proposed airport be owned or controlled by the city or county.

A third airport measure provides that approaches to and from an airport area be maintained in reasonably unobstructed conditions for safe flights.

Another bill aims to study planning, development and financing of public recreational areas and parks.

Limit to $2,000,000 the use of money for bond funds for construction of new mental health facilities.

Penalize Road Penalties
Allow cities to annex land for road widening. The bill provides for the jurisdiction of the state or county or township highway department to take action to penalize a city or township employee, upon retirement or annuity, for failure to provide a lessor annuity for a beneficiary.

Broader coverage of the law regarding the operation of institutions operated by non-profit organizations.

Authorize organization of non-profit groups to take action to provide for regulation of utility facilities for drinking and general domestic use on a mutual or cooperative basis.

Provide for organization of public health districts to serve areas with a population of more than 5000 population or more.

Regulate Subdivisions
Allow municipalities to regulate subdivisions within 1 1/2 miles of limits.

Authorize state treasurer in counties of more than 150,000 population to pay to school districts a proportionate share of interest earned on predated tax payments.

Appropriate $15,000 to pay expenses of General Assembly members attending the National Conference of Legislative Leaders.

Appropriate $245,432 to pay the state share of severance payments made by the city of Quincy at the Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' Home.

Bills Vetted
The bills Kerner vetoed would remove state control over the length of objects towed by vehicles on Illinois highways.

Provided penalties for drunken flying. Kerner said the matter already covered by state and federal regulation.

Required county boards of revision to make public the data used to produce the ratio of assessments between districts and the reasons for the ratios.

Kerner said he did not think the bill got at the heart of what the voters really want to know — how the tax multiplier is figured out.

Prohibit motorists from using parking lights while driving on highways. The governor said the use of parking lights is common at certain times of the day in this and other states, and it is not necessary to know — how the tax multiplier is figured out.

Madison Rotary Hears Talk on Stock Market

Madison Rotarians Wednesday afternoon heard a discussion of current trends in bond and stock buying.

George Francoules, program chairman, made the deal, answered questions about various phases of the stock market, including the present tendency for stock prices to be rising, while the profits they yield are declining.

The club agreed to order 80 flag and sleeve sets for placement along Madison avenue with the new sidewalks. Fourteen Madison merchants have purchased the sets, Lawrence Palke reported.

A special meeting will be held Sept. 12, eliminating a membership drive and hosting the district Rotary convention. The district members attended the meeting presided over by Fred Schmidt.

Rondal Bell, 27, Dies; Consumed Insecticide

Rondal L. Bell, 27, of 2231 Monroe street, died at 12:15 a.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital after consuming an unknown amount of a poisonous insecticide. He was rushed to the hospital by his brother, Roush, at 8:15 p.m. Monday, and doctors were unable to save him because too much of the poison had already entered his system. Rondal Bell said his brother apparently changed his mind and tried to save his own life after drinking the poison. He said Rondal Bell was drinking warm salt water trying to induce vomiting when he found him at home about 8 p.m.

Bell said his brother told him what he had done, and asked him to take him to a doctor or call one to the home. He rushed him immediately to his hospital for emergency treatment, he related.

Rondal Bell lived with his mother, Mrs. Mable Bell, and his brother, Roush, at 2231 Monroe street, in Granite City. He also is survived by a brother, Clifford, Granite City.

$90,075 Madison Permits Include New Warehouse

Approval of a $95,000 Schlitz brewery warehouse and office building boosted the Madison building permit total for July to $90,075, City Comptroller J. J. Miller reported this week.

Permit for the 98x118-foot building, to be of concrete block and brick construction, was issued to Imperial Foundation, Inc., 14th street and Grand avenue. It is being built at that address by Kacera Distributing Co.

Second most costly project indicated by the permits is repair of the gymnasium floor at Madison junior high school, Third street and Alton avenue. Expense of that job was estimated at $9200.

The Madison Auto Parts Co., 1620 Madison avenue, was granted a permit to construct a 38x22-foot concrete block addition to the business at an estimated cost of $6900.

Arthur Webb, 1735 Rhodes street, obtained a permit for a five-room brick veneer dwelling, to be constructed at a cost of $2500. A permit for a $1700 two-car garage of concrete block construction was issued to Helen Scarritt, 1510 Seventh street.

Glenwood Moll, 1927 Harris street, and Richard Kule, 1801 Sixth street, each received a permit for addition of a utility room to his home. Moll indicated his 22x27-foot room would cost $400, while Kule estimated a cost of $1000 for a 12x24-foot room.

A permit for construction of a concrete porch at the Green street, 1013 Greenwood street, was bought July 25. Cost of that addition was set at $400.
